Champ Says He Purposely Took 9 Counts

Could Have Gotten Up At Count Of One If He Had Desired

DEMPSEY MANAGER PLANS TO PROTEST

Tunney To Have Dinner With Mayor Thompson—Dempsey In Seclusion

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Champion Gene Tunney declared today that he could have gotten up at the count of one, had he cared to, when Jack Dempsey floored him in the seventh round of their thrilling battle last night at Soldiers' field.

"I heard the referee count one and could have gotten up then had I thought it advisable," said Tunney, who hasn't a scratch to show his part in the fight. "I conserved, however, to get the most of my recovery period. I watched Dempsey and listened to the referee. I was fully aware of what was transpiring."

Leave for New York.

Tunney decided to hold off his scheduled departure for New York until tomorrow that he may keep a dinner engagement with Mayor William Hale Thompson.

Dempsey, meanwhile, remained in seclusion at the hotel apartment of his wife, Estell Taylor, motion picture actress. Through his personal physician Dempsey announced he would not leave the hotel today and had no further statements to make.

Leo P. Flynn, Dempsey's manager, said he was going before the Illinois athletic commission and ask the commission to reverse the verdict of the referee and judges.

"Dempsey is not through, not with Tunney knocked out, he isn't through," declared Flynn.

The report of the chemist, Dr. Edgar L. Everhart, showed the finding of "sufficient poison to kill" in the stomaches of two young men.

Hayes and his wife now are held on a coroner's warrant charging murder. The evidence will be presented to the grand jury which meets October 3.

PAINTER FALLS 45 FEET AT COUNCILMAN'S HOME

J. A. Anderson Seriously Injured In Fall Thursday Afternoon

Was At Work At Home Of Councilman Tyler On West Side

J. A. Anderson, aged 45, of 203 Milton street, well known painter, is in the New Castle hospital suffering from a broken right hip, injuries of the pelvis and possible internal injuries as a result of a fall of 45 feet Thursday afternoon while painting the home of Councilman Walter V. Tyler, 1117 West Washington street.

At the hospital, it was stated today that Mr. Anderson, in spite of his very serious injuries, had spent a good night and his chances of recovery were slightly improved.

The accident occurred during the afternoon. Councilman Tyler had arrived home a little late for the noon day meal and was engaged in eating his lunch when the accident occurred.

Falls 45 Feet.

Mr. Anderson had formed a scaffold with two ladders with platform attachment and a plank across at the east side of the Tyler home. From this plank he had another ladder to enable him to reach and paint the cornice of the house, some 45 feet from the ground.

The larger ladders reaching to the ground were at rather a sharp angle. It is probable that Mr. Anderson in reaching the higher points of the cornice, disturbed the balance of one of the larger ladders supporting the scaffold and caused it to slide to one side, precipitating his smaller ladder on the scaffold and himself to the ground below.

Mr. Tyler heard the larger ladder scraping along the side of the house as it gave way and rushed to the outside, fearing an accident, arriving there about the same time that Mr. Anderson reached the ground.

The latter landed with great force on his right hip, sustaining the very serious injuries already mentioned. Owing to the nature of his injuries, Mr. Anderson was in great pain. He was rushed to the New Castle hospital immediately, where the nature of his injuries were determined and measures taken to relieve them and make his recovery possible.

OFFICIAL COUNT MUST BE AWAITED

Elder And Blank Are Separated By Very Few Votes; Winner Uncertain

While numerous reports have been circulated since Thursday's issue of The News regarding the outcome of the contest between P. O. Elder of this city and C. H. Blank of Ellwood City for the second commissioner nomination in the county on the Republican party ticket, it is the general consensus of opinion today that nothing but the official count will determine the winner.

The margin between the two candidates is so small that the final figures of the official count will be needed to determine who has won this nomination.

Indiana Stirred By Conviction Of Mayor Duvall

Political Thrones Of Indiana Shake As Jury Finds Duvall Guilty

DUVALL COUNSEL SEEKS NEW TRIAL

Claude F. Johnson, Former Chief Of Police, Will Succeed Duvall As Mayor

By EUGENE J. CADOU
International News Service Staff Correspondent

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 23.—The political thrones of Indiana were shaking today as the fact that a politician of consequence had been sent to jail by a Marion county jury was digested. Conviction of Mayor John L. Duvall of Indianapolis on a charge of violation of the corrupt practices was viewed as only the beginning of Hoosierdom's long delayed effort to purge itself of political corruption.

Duvall's attorneys today were battling to obtain a new trial to prevent the consummation of his sentence of 30 days in the Marion county jail and a fine of $1,000, with a provision that the mayor shall not hold public office for four years from November 2, 1925, the date of his violation of the corrupt practices act.

Unless the defense lawyers succeed in obtaining a reversal of the sentence Duvall must yield his office. In this event Claude F. Johnson, former chief of police, who a few days ago was named city controller by the mayor, will become the city's chief executive. Johnson is a close political ally of Duvall.

The specific charge against Duvall was that he accepted $10,000 from William H. Armitage, former political boss of Indianapolis under the administration of Lew Shank as mayor, and agreed to allow Armitage to select three office holders who would control the expenditure of several million dollars in street paving and other public improvement.

Duvall, according to the testimony, assured Armitage he would be permitted to name two of the three members of the board of public works and the city civil engineer. The engineer makes recommendations for awards of street paving contracts.

To prove the intent of Duvall in his political deals, evidence was introduced that Duvall was the maker of dozens of promises of appointments in advance of the election, a procedure in direct violation of the corrupt practices act of Indiana.

Judge Sets Date

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 23—Special Judge C. C. Shirley today set for October 8 the further consideration of the case of Mayor John L. Duvall of Indianapolis, who was found guilty by a jury in criminal court last night of violating the corrupt practices act. The mayor was sentenced to serve 30 days in the Marion county jail, was fined $1,000 and was barred from public office for four years from the date of his offense.

Marcella, was placed on trial before Judge Hildebrand in the Lawrence county court this forenoon. It is claimed that on the afternoon of July 9, last, Love, who was driving a truck, was proceeding down Mahoning avenue, and had reached a point a short distance below the west grade to the viaduct when the little girl was struck while running across the street.

According to witnesses Love's truck was zig-zagging across the street, when the accident occurred. It is claimed that he was intoxicated and there is also a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Love claims that the little girl came out from the side of the street and ran into his truck.

CHARITABLE BEQUESTS ARE MADE IN WILL OF LATE MRS. D.D. SIMISON

Many charitable bequests are made in the will of the late Mrs. Tillie J. Simison, of Volant, widow of the late David D. Simison, who disposes of an estate valued at around $75,000. Mrs. Simison was a sister of Dr. Charles Jordan, state secretary of agriculture.

In the will which was probated today at the office of County Register and Recorder, Jeannette Hutton, The Lawrence Savings and Trust company is made executor. After disposing of cash and other bequests to relatives both on her side and her late husband's side of the house, Mrs. Simison makes the following charitable bequests:

To the Shenango Valley hospital, New Castle, $5000.

To the Almira Home, for aged ladies, New Castle, $3000.

To trustees of Fair Oaks cemetery, New Wilmington, $3000 to be held in trust, and the income to be used in keeping up the cemetery. Should the trustees at any time raise a fund of $20,000 for the maintenance of the cemetery, then the $3000 is to become an absolute gift.

Trustees of the Volant Methodist church are left a fund of $10,000, which is to be invested. The proceeds are to be used for such expenses as insurance, salary of sexton, and the upkeep of the church, and for no other purpose.

If the Methodist church should be disbanded then the $10,000 is left to the Board of Foreign Missions of the M. E. church, Home Missions and church extension, the Board of Foreign Missions to get half and the other two organizations half.

All the residue of the estate after bequests to relatives and charitable institutions, is to go to the Board of Foreign Missions, Home Missions and church extension, to be divided equally.

The will appears to have been very carefully drawn with the thought in mind of remembering all relatives in a fair and equitable manner.

Jury Acquits Fred Mayberry

Returns Verdict Of "Not Guilty But Pay Costs Of Case"

JURY DELIBERATES FOR MANY HOURS

After spending a night in the jury room and deliberating for 24 hours, the jury in the case of the commonwealth against Fred Mayberry, tried in the Lawrence county court on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Emma Mary Gibson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson, brought in a verdict of "not guilty" but pay the costs. The verdict was returned about 3:15 Thursday afternoon.

After taking the verdict, Judge Hildebrand remarked that while he was not criticising the verdict, he was at a loss to understand how the jury arrived at such a conclusion in view of the evidence.

The jury had retired upon a conclusion of the court's charge about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The evidence had shown that Emma Mary Gibson died as a result of injuries sustained when an automobile in which she was riding was struck by the Mayberry car as it rounded the curve on Highland avenue, just above Leasure. The Gibson car was at the south side of Leasure against the right curb when struck.

Numerous witnesses testified that the Mayberry car was going at a high and dangerous rate of speed. Mayberry claimed that there was something the matter with his steering apparatus.

The verdict ends the case so far as criminal prosecution is concerned, but a civil action for damages has been brought against Mayberry by the parents of the little girl.

Jack Failed To Abide By Rule

That Is Why Referee Did Not Start Counting, Prehn Declares

HAD TO RETIRE TO HIS CORNER FIRST

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Paul Prehn, member of the Illinois Boxing Commission, today explained the interpretation of the Illinois State Athletic Commission's rule governing knockdown by pointing out that a count over a boxer who has been floored cannot be begun until his opponent has stepped back into neutral territory.

Prehn said Dave Barry, the referee, warned Jack Dempsey to go to his corner after he floored Gene Tunney in the seventh round last night and withheld his count when Jack hesitated. When Dempsey complied the count was begun, he said.

The rule covering knockdowns reads:

"When a knockdown occurs the timekeeper shall immediately arise and announce the seconds audibly as they elapse. The referee shall first see that the opponent retires to the farthest corner and then, turning to the time keeper, shall pick up the count in unison with the timekeeper, announcing the seconds to the boxer on the floor. Should the boxer on his feet fail to stay in the corner, the referee and timekeeper shall cease counting until he has so retired."

CLEVELAND BABY CASE IS SETTLED

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—Little "Georgia" Smith, aged one month and one day, was home today, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith, were trying to forget a "George" Smith who, the scales of justice say, never existed.

Bringing to an end one of the most complicated cases of its kind ever recorded. Common Pleas Judge Carl V. Weygandt late yesterday dismissed the habeas corpus action filed by Sam Smith, local barber, asking that a local hospital be compelled to produce one "baby George Smith" who, the petition said, was lost in a shuffle of babies at the institution.

There was no evidence, Judge Weygandt declared, in his decision, to substantiate the claim of Mrs. Smith that a baby born to her in a local maternity hospital August 22, was exchanged for another. On the contrary, he said, all the evidence supported the contention of the hospital that a mistake was made at the time of birth; that a nurse erroneously reported Mrs. Smith's baby was a boy when in reality it was a girl.

Expert Here, Says Hotel Kitchen Is Best Possible

Cornell University Economics Expert Visitor At "The Castleton"

"The kitchen of The Castleton lacks nothing which will go to make it one of the finest hotel kitchens that I have ever seen," declared Mrs. Jessie Boyes of the college of home economics of Cornell University, who is spending a few days in New Castle inspecting the cuisine of the hostelry.

Mrs. Boyes, it will be remembered, is one of the foremost home economists in the country, having written most of the Boston cook book, which most women regard as the best.

While she was pleased with the entire layout of the kitchen, Mrs. Boyes expressed particular satisfaction at the dishwashing arrangements and the machine which is to polish the silver. "Guests at The Castleton will have dishes which are cleaner and more sanitary than the ones from which they eat in their own homes," was her statement.

Another thing which pleased the eminent home economist was the arrangement of the gas hotel ranges and the steam jacketed pressure cookers. On the floor of the hotel they are so arranged that a minimum of space is consumed, and so placed that no extra steps need to be taken by the chef and his staff of cooks.

John L. Slack, manager of The Castleton, will be out of town over the week-end, but next week, when he returns, the army of decorators, cleaners, as well as the regular staff of the hotel, will again begin their feverish efforts so that the hotel may open complete on the date set.

Local Boy Given High Honors At Culver Academy

Jonathan Brown Of Moody Ave. Awarded Gold "C"; Second Boy To Ever Win Award

Word has been received at Boy Scout Headquarters from the Culver Military Academy of the high honors won by Jonathan Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Brown of 211 E. Moody avenue, this city.

Jonathan was awarded with a Gold "C", the highest honor of the camp. It is presented to woodcrafters who having become first class scouts, pass a certain number of tests to the satisfaction of the Council of Review. Brown is the second man to ever receive his gold "C" in the first year at camp. He also wo nother honors at camp of which he can well be proud.

Scoutmaster Shultz of Troop 17, Brown's local scoutmaster, also receives great credit for his splendid instruction to the young chap.

The letter from the Culver Military Academy follows:

August 22, 1927.

DEAR SIR:—

I thought you might be interested to learn of the honors gained by a member of your Council of Boy Scouts.

At the Final Council of the Culver School of Woodcraft, Jonathan Brown of Troop 17, New Castle, received his Gold C the highest honor of the camp. The Gold C is awarded to those Woodcrafters who having become First Class Scouts (which Brown did at the instruction of Scoutmaster Shultz of Troop 17) pass a certain number of tests to the satisfaction of the Council of Review. The Gold can be gained only after the Bronze and Silver medals are gained. Brown is the second man to ever receive his Gold C in the first year in camp.

Not only did Brown gain this medal but he gained a Top Notch in Radio. A Top Notch is awarded to any Woodcrafter exceeding in any one department and is awarded at recommendation of the head of that department. The third ward given to Brown at this council was an award for discipline and all-around development, the Hubbard Award. It is awarded to any Woodcrafter recommended for it four times by Division Officers. He also received several Merit badges at the time.

I believe he should receive some recognition of his exceptional work from the local Council. He has always been a very good Scout having entered Culver as a Life Scout and having received a medal for signaling in his Scout Troop 17. The Scoutmaster of that troop Mr. Schultz should be congratulated on the fine material he turns out. I don't believe that such a remarkable achievement has ever been accomplished before or will be accomplished again in the near future in this school.

Sincerely your,
Cadet JACK L. WHITE,
Culver Summer Cavalry School.

To Remodel Garbage Plant And Build Sharp Street Sewer

Two contracts, one big, the second small, were approved by city council in formal session at the city building today. One calls for remodelling of the incinerator and the second for a sanitary sewer in Sharp street.

The Hiler Company, Brooklyn, will install two Heenan, 50 ton capacity furnaces in the present garbage plant for $44,000, and according to a communication sent to council today "the company is the sole licensee to build them" the letter adding: "No other firm can submit bids for construction for this type of furnace."

Cage Bros. contract with the city calls for construction of a short sanitary sewer in Sharp street.

An ordinance for the furnace installation contract was introduced, put in and taken from committee with a favorable report and will be passed after the bill comes from the printer.

SPITE FENCE IS CAUSE OF COMPLAINT

Mike Socasky, 507 Electric street, found occasion today to complain to the police concerning the activity of a woman neighbor in causing to be erected between her and his property, a fence some fifteen or twenty feet in height. He alleged to the police that it was being constructed for spite purposes.

PROBLEMS OF THE FLOOD

WHILE official agencies are studying what should be done about the Mississippi Valley flood problem, civilian volunteers are also active, and plans for prevention are appearing on every side. The variety and multitude of their recommendations prove the magnitude of the task. It also indicates that safety is going to rest upon not one remedy but upon a combination of them.

Levees and more levees. Spillways to carry off the surplus waters, and thus save cities situated as are New Orleans and others which lie below the level of the Father of Waters. Reforestation and a new type of hill-farming to prevent running-off and gullying. Fertilization of the Mississippi flood plain with flood mud and its systematic cultivation. Storage reservoirs to hold back a part of the flood waters.

Two questions in relation to this problem the next congress is to be called upon to decide. First it will determine, if the several blocs can agree, what plan of prevention is to be followed. After that it will say, provided enough vote the same way, who is to pay for it.

The public either within or outside the flood area is not concerned so much with the method to be pursued as long as some method is pursued. But there is likely to be some division of opinion on who is to foot the bill, and it will be a formidable one. The question is will the cost all come out of the federal treasury or will it all come out of the treasuries of the states directly concerned, or will it be divided between the two? Some will argue that the nation as a whole should assume full responsibility. Others contend it is a burden that cannot rightly be placed upon the shoulders of taxpayers outside the flood territory. And there is a third group which thinks the nation should help the menaced states help themselves.

MORE AIR FIELDS NEEDED

BEHIND the front line of experimentation which made possible the flights across the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, America is preparing for less spectacular but highly important developments in aviation. That work is not only going on in many factories which are rapidly turning out planes to meet an ever-increasing demand. It is in evidence in hundreds of cities and towns where public and private interests are building fields, hangars and shops for air fleets of the future.

More than 4,000 airports already dot the American landscape. They are scattered over every state in the Union. They are awaiting the winged carriers which are not held back by the ancient hazards of forests, mountains, streams and deserts.

While the majority of these airports are private commercial ventures, 207 cities have municipal fields completed or under construction and more than a hundred others have them under consideration. One by one they are being equipped with the most modern devices for the safety and convenience of fliers and to expedite air transportation.

The preliminary list of about 1,000 of the more important airports shows that, with one exception, the larger cities have not displayed marked initiative in building municipal fields. Chicago has seven civic airports and those of the other large cities that have even one airport have no numerical advantage over hundreds of small cities and towns which have demonstrated their progressiveness by providing municipal flying fields.

American cities should prepare for the development of commercial aviation. The 4,000 fields scattered over the forty-eight states represent a step forward, but they are scarcely adequate for transient flying and for preliminary ventures in carrying passengers and freight through the air. The time is near at hand when it will be profitable as well as desirable for every community to have its own landing field.

THE MARKET PLACE

WHEN a carrier leaves a paper on a doorstep, it may not occur to him that he is playing a part in the economic life of his town, but so it is, for to each individual reader he is really delivering the "market place of the community." How many carriers—how many readers even—would recognize their familiar newspaper under such a title? Yet such it literally is.

The newspaper as a market place is but the culmination of a long development. Generations ago, the market place for the hardy families of the frontier was the traveling peddler. Subsequently he shifted his pack from his back to a horse or wagon. Then he was supplanted by the general store, which in turn gave way to the large department store and specialty shops.

At the latter stage the merchant discovered he must again "carry" his goods directly to his customer. But the magnitude of his stock prevented a reversion to the pack. He turned to newspaper advertising and solved his problem. He could not exhibit the goods themselves in every home but he could, through newspaper advertising columns, deliver to every household the news about his goods.

Perhaps few people have stopped to think how completely the newspaper has become the market place of the community, bringing to all an up-to-the-minute knowledge of available goods and services. In fair weather or foul this market place comes to the buyer in the form of news—news of what to buy and why, where to buy and when, and how much to pay.

As the market place of the community advertising does save time for the shopper; does lower prices to the consumer; does insure larger income to the manufacturer and merchant.

No town is big enough for a reckless drivers' convention.

The unemployment problem for many is how to keep that way.

One of those gold-digging female roosters, we are told, started a lie to the effect that one of the most prominent Christian gentlemen in this city had started to drinking. They are Republicans at the primaries and Democrats at the election.

The difference between a world war and a political war is that one is fought in the air and the other is fought on it.

A man who was running for a ward office in this city was approached by an admirer who told him he wanted to work for him. He asked for 15 cards and the next day came back and asked for 15 more cards. The candidate asked him where he had used the cards the day before and the man told him he had sent them to New Wilmington. The candidate told him to confine his activities to this city, as New Wilmington would not vote in his case. The funny thing about this is that some of the cards fell into the hands of a man in New Wilmington, who sent them to some of his relatives in the ward in which they were intended for, and they voted for the candidate.

Sometimes even if a bird is a wonderful Bible student it does not stand to reason that he will make a good public officeholder.

The thing that pleased us most in the recent primaries was the defeat of candidates who were the tools of would-be political bosses in this county. They all got it where the chicken got the axe.

The fellow who insists that this is a selfish world is about the only selfish person in it.

One certainly hears some enlightening conversations over the radio while a prize fight is being broadcasted.

It is not always the salary a public officeholder gets that cuts so much of a figure with the taxpayers, but what his incompetence and ignorance costs the taxpayers. And there is a lot of that latter stuff in existence.

A Brownsville, Pa., woman shot and seriously wounded her husband because he criticized her cooking. Even though wounded, he said she was justified and refused to make a complaint against her when taken to the hospital. There are men who will think the lady made a poor job of it, after they hear the mollycoddle would not have her pinched for plinking him.

Binks bought a new shirt, and on a slip pinned on the inside found the name and address of a girl, with the words, "please write and sen photograph".

"Ah", breathed Binks, "here is a romance."

And forthwith he wrote the girl and sent her a picture of himself. In due course of time an answer came, and with heart a-flutter Binks opened it. It was only a note.

"I was curious to see", it read, "what kind of a looking gink would wear such a cheap shirt."

"What kind of a car are you going to buy this year?"

In nearly all the big stores signs were displayed reading: "Boost Youngstown. Spend your money where you earn it." This was signed by the board of trade. We echo those sentiment exactly and hope that New Castle people will take the hint and buy where they earn their money. To us on seeing those signs, it was an invitation to stay away and New Castle people ought to take the hint. To leave your son money, without having taught him how to use it, is to make misery your executor.

Mrs. Smith had a baby in a Cleveland hospital. She and her husband said it was a boy, when they gave her a girl baby to nurse. The father says: "They can keep that girl, so far as I am concerned, unless they prove it is mine." Something of a prejudice against girl babies in that, perhaps.

One proof offered is that the girl baby's ears are exactly like those of the mother. That is most important. Human ears and the "Darwinian tubercle" that sometimes goes with them are often inherited from generation to generation, and prove heredity at a glance.

Anyhow, ANY girl baby will repay richly any one that takes care of her.

OIL

Few people realize the immensity of the oil industry. In an article in a recent number of the Review of Reviews by Judson C. Welliver, some interesting facts are given. They are as follows:

Some $11,000,000,000 is invested in the oil industry in this country.

Of this amount $3,500,000,000 is ascribed to the Standard Oil group of companies.

About 1,100,000 people are employed in producing oil. Add to this the operators of filling stations, say, 225,000, and again, the stockholders and bondholders, owners of royalties, etc., estimated at 1,500,000. Thus the oil business is a tremendous distributor of incomes.

Showing how much of a gamble the oil business is, some $700,000,000 was spent in twelve years drilling dry holes and $500,000,000 more was lost in wells that produced nothing but deficits. Wells a mile deep are not remarkable. Some exceed a mile and a half.

According to the Bureau of Mines there were 465 refineries last January 1. Almost half a billion dollars' worth of oil products were included in foreign trade in 1925. The only industry that even approached this amount was the automobile and accessories.

Oil products represent one-sixth of the freight carriage of railroads.

There are 150,000 tank cars in service.

Oil is the largest factor in Panama Canal transportation. There are 90,000 miles of pipe line in the country. Without these pipe lines the railroads would be swamped with the transportation of oil products.

It might be said that road building is a by-product of the petroleum industry as the gasoline taxes last year amounted to $200,000,000.

Approximately $1,000,000,000 is being spent this year on new roads.

And to think that there are now living people who remember the time when the oil business was non-existent. And some of us can remember back when there were no automobiles or trolley cars, to say nothing of airplanes and radios.

We may well ask, what next?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

COMPOUND INTEREST

The late Professor Charles Sargent of Harvard has given the financial world something to think about. In his will he makes the following bequests: "I give and bequeath the sum of $10,000 to the President and Fellows of Harvard College, to be by them invested and the income thereof to be added to the principal, for and during the term of one hundred years from the date of my decease and at the expiration of said term of one hundred years the principal sum together with the accumulated interest thereof to be divided into two equal funds.

"The net income of one of said funds shall be expended for the care and maintenance of the Arnold Arboretum, according to the trusts and conditions upon which the said Arboretum is now held. . . . .

"The income of the remaining fund shall be added to the principal thereof for the further additional term of one hundred years and thereafter the income therof shall be expended for the same purposes as provided for the income of the first fund."

If the provisions of that will are carried out, the name of Sargent will be better known to Economists and Financiers, a few generations hence than it is to the Scientists of today. The conditions of the will will very likely cause the financial administration of Harvard University some very anxious thought. Professor Sargent directs that the Fund is to accumulate for one hundred years, and then be divided into equal parts, one part of which is to accumulate for another hundred years. A great financier is always looking for compound interest, and the sucessful application of the principles of compound interest is to receive one gorgeous test if the provisions of the will are carried out. There is no question but what an attempt to carry it out will be made.

The Wall Street Journal gives a table showing the theoretical results of calculating the amount of money which may accumulate under the provisions of this will, and it is as follows:

Even more extraordinary than the revelation of the size to which a $10,000 fund will grow in 100 years and the still more enormous total to which half the fund will grow in 200 years is the disclosure of the tremendous difference that the rate of interest will make. In 200 years a given sum will accumulate to a total of nearly fifty times greater at 6½% than at 4%. In the light of these figures the difficulty confronting Harvard's financial administration in the investment of the Sargent fund is apparent. The difference between 4% and 6¼% is not a mere difference of $225 a year in income; It is a difference of $668,000,000 in future principal. This sum is equal to almost ten times Harvard's total present endowment.

On June 30, 1926, Harvard's general funds were invested as follows:

Bonds, notes, and mortages, book value, 48,929,220; income 7-1-25-6, 30, 26, 2,350,062, rate of return, 4.80%.

Stocks and real estate, book value, 21,289,127; income 7-1-25-6, 30,26, 1,341,125; rate of return, 6.30%.

Total, book value, 70,218,347; income 7-1-25-6, 30, 26, 3,691,187; rate of return 5.25%.

The rates of interest used in the first table were approximations of the rates in the second table, together with the arbitrary rates, 4% and 5%.

And friendship for his brother.
He was the object of her prayer.
Now he has failed his mother.

Too fine, too strong, too big to be
Man's enemy she thought him.
But all the faults which others see
We know she never taught him.

'Tis not her love has given out,
That Time can never alter.

That he has grown to falter.

LOOKING FOR THINGS.

Everybody has his own reasons for having fallen a little short of what he once expected to accomplish. That is everybody who is old enough to realize that some of his future that he once counted upon is already past.

My friend George Coles was telling me the other day about his reason for having failed to do many big things that he once intended to do.

"I have spent about a fifth of my waking life looking for things" he said. "You see I admit that I have several talents, but my most prominent talent seems to be losing or misplacing things. When I was on the farm I was always losing the monkey wrench or the hatchet or the cows. Some of these things would be found as soon as they were no longer wanted but many things that I lost were never re-discovered.

"I'm a poor hunter too. When I start a search I seem to get lost in it, somehow. And so I find myself wasting minutes or hours of the business day, just looking for things that ought to be in a certain place but very seldom are there. My fountain pen, knife, records, notes, letters. Anything that is small and some times things that are large, I mislay. I guess I wasn't trained to be orderly when I was an infant."

"Well, maybe George's mother is a little bit to blame but I have a feeling that suspicion points strongly to somebody else and that's George himself. It's never too late to acquire habits of orderliness. Somebody ought to get George a small filing cabinet or a few box files for Christmas. And then George ought to begin to put everything in its proper place every time he puts it anywhere. There's no good excuse for wasting time looking for things. It's so easy to learn orderly habits at any time of life.

Lowden Outstanding Mid-West Candidate In Presidency Issue

Leaders End Tour Of Corn And Wheat Belts With Favoritism For Lowden

Secretary Hoover And Vice President Dawes Second Choice Of Farmers

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois leads the Republican field in the middle west today in the race for Calvin Coolidge's presidential toga.

This was the opinion expressed here today by Republican leaders, returning from the corn and wheat belts. They placed Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover and Vice President Charles G. Dawes in a virtual tie for second place for popularity among the farmers, while all other potential Republican candidates were grouped as a "bad third".

This mid-western lineup of the possible successors to Coolidge as Republican standard-bearers in the 1928 campaign was based on present conditions. The corn and wheat belt leaders declared the lineup might shift at any time and that a "dark horse" hitherto unmentioned, might sweep to the front and carry the farmer vote into the next convention.

Lowden Strong.

"Governor Lowden is the strongest of any of the Republican candidates mentioned thus far," said Senator Lynn J. Frazier (R) of North Dakota, a so-called insurgent. "The progressive group in the middle west would much sooner support Senator Bora or Senator Norris but neither of them has as yet indicated any desire to make a race for the presidency.

"The farm organizations now are talking Lowden more than anyone else. All this may be changed though before the convention meets.

Frazier said his own favorite for the Republican nomination was Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska, leader of the insurgent group in the senate.

Senator W. H. McMaster (R) of South Dakota, who spent considerable time during the summer with President Coolidge in the Black Hills of his state, also declared Lowden was the most formidable candidate in the middle west at this time.

"I should say that Lowden was the favorite candidate to succeed President Coolidge in South Dakota, North Dakota, Iowa and Minnesota, now that President Coolidge is not in the race," said McMaster.

"Secretary Hoover also has a strong following throughout the middle west. The attitude of Vice President Dawes on farm relief was entirely satisfactory to the farmers but his following is not as strong as Hoover's because he has not been an active candidate. Other possible candidates have not been mentioned much because of inactivity on the part of their followers."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—While the number of new cases of infantile paralysis showed a material increase for the week ending September 17, over the preceding week, officials of the United States Public Health service predicted today that the advent of colder weather would bring about a sharp reduction in the number of cases.

Three Patents Issued At Washington To New Castle Inventors

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Three New Castle men are on this week's list of inventors receiving patents as just announced by the United States patent office. One obtained two patents.

A refractory body has been patented by George D .Morris who filed his patent application December 18, 1925. The patent has been assigned to the New Castle Refractories company of New Castle. The invention is described as follows: "A kiln car platform slab comprising a body portion of fire clay and an edge portion of stronger refractory material."

Morris also invented a kiln car the patent being assigned to the American Dressler Tunnel Kilns, Inc., of Cleveland. The patent was filed October 26, 1926.

John H. Herman and George W. Jones, collaborated in inventing a button. They filed their patent application three days before last Christmas. There has been no assignment of the patent.

Public Health In Philippines Is Big Problem

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—One of the greatest problems with which the next governor general of the Philippines will be confronted is that of public health education.

Unusual strides were made by the Wood administration in cutting down disease which can ce controlled by proper sanitation and the improvement of the material aspects of life in the Philippines, but disease arising from unclean or unsound personal living habits remains as prevalent as ever.

This situation can be remedied, in the opinion of insular officials, only by a public health education program reaching all the inhabitants of the archipelago. In his last annual report, Governor General Wood said: "While the Philippine health service attempts to enforce adequate health regulations in all the provinces, disease can not be controlled by regulations alone. The real solution of the problem, effective health education, must begin in the earlier years of life; health habits must be acquired during school years."

Early Steps Taken.

Some steps have already been taken in this direction, the most notable being the establishment of a school of hygiene and public health at the University of the Philippines for the training of health service officers and physicians in the prevention of disease.

Plans for this school have been completed and funds provided by the legislature, although the institution itself has not yet begun to function. It will be modeled after the most efficient schools of that nature now operating in the United States. It is hoped by this means to increase the knowledge and efficiency of the health service. Only six of the 420 health service officers now have had any special training in public health.

Improper eating and ignorance as to proper diets are primarily responsible for the inability of the insular officials to check the most prevalent diseases. Intestinal infection is common among the Filipinos, and no progress toward checking this disorder can be hoped for until the people have been educated along dietary lines.

Common Diseases.

Another common disease, and one which has shown no appreciable decrease in recent years, is tuberculosis. Under-nutrition has hampered the work of the health service curbing this malady. "Until economic conditions are improved," said the Wood report, "and until the people are able to prepare a more adequate and balanced diet, tuberculosis will continue." Deaths from this disease last year exceeded 26,000.

Another disease which might be expected to give way before a public health education campaign is that of beriberi, one of the most serious on the islands.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Representative Florence P. Kahn of California is counted on by big navy-ites in Washington to figure as one of their best fighters at the next session of congress for a stronger American sea establishment.

She isn't expected merely to put up a good fight—"for a woman." Mrs. Kahn's considered a formidable fighter—for anybody.

When the preparedness group in President Coolidge's own party bolted the chief executive's "waiting policy" as to warship expansion, last winter, with a demand for more real cruisers, instead of cruisers simply "on paper", the outstanding leaders of the insurrection in the house of representatives were Speaker Longworth, Majority Floor Manager Tilson of Connecticut, Chairman Butler of the naval affairs committee, from Pennsylvania, Congresswoman Kahn and Congressman Britten of Illinois.

Of this quintet, Mrs. Kahn wasn't the least influential.

* * *

That a woman's at a certain advantage in the militant ranks, in a clash of this sort, probably can't be denied.

The supposition is, perhaps, that her sex will shrink from the thought of international violence—though there are plenty of authorities who say the truth's quite otherwise—and when one of its representatives takes the preparedness side of the argument, maybe it's more noticeable than it is in a great hulking man, like Longworth, Tilson, Butler or Britten.

Mrs. Kahn, however, lays no claims to extra consideration because she's a woman. All she does claim to count for is just a regular member of congress.

* * *

The California congresswoman, be it understood, denies that she's a militarist. She isn't for war at any price, anyway.

"But if we're to have an army and navy at all," she said, just after the rumpus in the house of representatives last season, "I'm in favor of the genuine articles as far as they go—not blueprint ships and tin soldiers."

This, remember, was before the last Geneva armament limitations conference had gone to glory.

If that's the way she felt about it then, the big navy folk are saying among themselves, how much more emphatically must she feel the same way since England's negotiators have refused to put the soft pedal on their warship-building program!

This is a safe bet, to anyone who ever talked with Congresswoman Kahn.

* * *

Let anybody who imagines that Mrs. Kahn of California, being a woman, doesn't know all about lawmaking and debate and parliamentary tick-tacks and all the congressional ins-and-outs that any politician ever thought of—yea, and armies and navies—let said individual disabuse his mind of any such erroneous idea as promptly as possible.

Mrs. Kahn's husband, the late Julius Kahn, served 24 years in the house of representatives—as chairman of the committee on military affairs, too, a considerable part of it.

All that time his wife was right here with him. She wasn't the kind of a congressman's wife who wasn't interested in her husband's work, either.

Mrs. Kahn can give cards, spades and big and little casino to three-quarters of the big he-congressmen in the capital and beat 'em with her eyes shut.

When the big navy-ites speak of having Congresswoman Kahn on their side next winter, they mean they've got something a lot more substantial than just one vote from the fourth district of California.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 23. — In spite of the fact that the apple crop in this section, in the heart of New York State's best apple country, will be one of the lightest in many years, owners of cider mills and vinegar factories are making preparations for a busy season.

Owners of orchards, including those that have been sprayed and the best care taken of, say that both quality and quantity will be poor, the yield being estimated at one third to one half of the average.

Uncertainty of the dried apple market has caused many operators to change their plants to make cider, the popularity of which has grown until the growing of apples for mill use has broken all records.

'Old Bill' Burgess Channel Swim Trainer, Says He Hates Water

(International News Service)

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 23.—After twenty years of experience, "Old Bill" Burgess, second man to swim the English Channel, has decided he knows nothing about the treachous waters between Cap Gris Nez and Dover.

"I started to swim the Channel thirty-two times and succeded only once," says "Old Bill," recounting his experiences. "I have trained scores of swimmers for the crossing. Few have succeeded. I hate going into the water now and avoid it when I can.

Burgess is busy training the American Zitenfeld twins, who, he believes, have the three qualifications for success: money, a proper boat and pilot and the right temperament.

The fourth essential, good weather, he hopes to choose for them.

"I really don't train Channel swimmers," says Burgess. "My job is more that of a jester. I do not think about swimming. All I have to is to amuse my pupils and keep them from thinking about swimming and the weather.

"When a Channel swim is due I give my pupils barely two hours notice. I go from my house and find out what the weather is like. If it is favorable I say: 'we are going to start in a few hours' time.'"

Youth Proposes To Race Pony

(International News Service)

BURLINGTON, N. C., Sept. 23.—Sometime within the near future Paul L. ("Hardrock") Simpson, local youth, plans to race a Texas pony for 500 miles from Burlington to Beaufort, N. C., and return.

The youth recently clipped off 145 miles of the proposed race, but was ordered to stop by his physician because of an infected foot. The pony was stalled when the 145 mile post was passed.

Simpson announced here that he would attempt to make the run again in the next few weeks, and was confident that he would win over the pony, and cop the $500 prize that has been put up by local enthusiasts.

Girl Talks To Birds In Their Own Language

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 23.—From early childhood Miss Dorothy McFarland, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. tnd Mrs. Dwight McFarland, of Dallas has been talking to the birds. She comes nearer understanding the meanings of the songs and notes of the many different kinds of birds that she has about her than any other living person, her friends declare. By imitating the calls of birds she quickly makes friends with them and they come in great flocks to her home and serenade her each day. Miss McFarland is a pupil at North Dallas High School and she frequently has delighted her schoolmates with her imitations of songs and calls of birds.

Dorothy doesn't know when she began her childish pastime of "talking" to the birds.

"They seemed like fairies to me when I was young enough to believe that fairies really existed," she declared. "I used to watch them quietly, seeing their little throats swell and pulsate as they poured out their lovely songs.

"After a while I began to imitate the sounds they produced. I had never heard of professional whistlers at the time and knew no one of my own sex who was interested in whistling. So I didn't go at the art in a conventional manner, but just practiced and practiced until, with the aid of the diaphram, tongue and lips, I could produce sounds that were very like bird notes."

When she told her elders that she could really "talk to the birds," they had to see and hear her performances to become convinced.

"I would come very close to a mocking bird," related Dorothy, "and whatever was sung by him I immediately imitated. There was one bird who turned his eyes toward me with wonderment; his head would tilt over to one side. Then he would apparently pull down his vest, swallow hard and send out a perfect torrent of sounds in an effort to lose me conversationally. When I persisted in answering in my best bird talk, he would listen curiously, then with a disgusted look he wouuld fly away. I suppose he was thinking of the proverb about whistling women and crowing hens. Maybe he tried to tell me what he thought of my daring, but I couldn't catch his meaning.

"I wish everybody in Dallas could hear the bird concerts given at my home every morning," generously concedes Dorothy. "Birds don't have to practice in order to be able to sing. They just fill the air with melody. But I practice several hours every morning during vacation and I wouldn't change summer for any other part of the year."

A visit to a local bird store found Dorothy McFarland able to make friends with even the shyest canary and the most captious critic among the parrots. "Birds like to be noticed, just like humans," she said, "and they know when you love them. Some day I'm going to have costumes just like the canary's and the gorgeous nacaws and I'll give such fine impersonations that Dallas will be proud of me yet."

Man's Pet Tree Yields Different Kinds Of Apples

McKEESPORT, Pa., Sept. 23.—James Holloway, for thirty years superintendent of the Pratt country place at Glen Cove, is the Luther Burbank of Long Island, whose hobby, since he retired, twenty years ago, has been experimenting with tree grafting in general and apple trees in particular.

In his little orchard on Dosoris Lane of nearly two acres, are all manners of grapes, peaches and apples. From the very outset, he conceived the idea of raising fruit, not by quantity but by variety, and today his tiny orchard bears a greater variety than any orchard on Long Island.

An apple tree, one of the earliest he planted as a mere seedling, of which he was particularly proud, is small, about twelve feet high in diameter on top and twenty feet high. Yet it bears at least thirty- four different varieties of the best table apple, the kinds that take prizes at fruit shows.

On it are Long Island Russet, Spokane Beauty, Sweet Winesap, Hyde King, Ridge, Northern Greening, Hibernal, McMahon, Frantz, Golden Winesap, Golden Beauty, Red Wine, Catherin, Cream, King of Tompkins County, Peeks Pleasant, Hilland Pippin, Beacon Jones, Early Jones, Golden Delicious, Willow Twig, Fallawater, Oswego, Tioga, Margil, Roxbury Russet, Cortland, Brownless Russet, Northern Spy, Bismark, Lord Suffield and three unclassified varieties.

Judge Refuses To Set Aside Traction Company Verdict

Company Must Pay For Damages To Truck And Injuries To Girl

MERCER, Sept. 23.—The Shenengo Valley Traction Company will have to make payment of the judgment returned by the jury at the February last Common Pleas court of $1171.28 to Noah Zolden of Farrell and $300 to his daughter Cecil or carry an appeal to a higher court.

Judge J. A. McLaughry has refused both to set aside or to grant the defendant company a new trial. The action was brought as the result of personal injury to the plaintiff, Cecil Zolden, when a street car of the company ran into a truck. The father, Noah, brings suit at the same time to collect for the money expended by him during the time of his daughter's illness. The case was the feature at the February court.

In Day's News

Major Gen. James G. Harbord, U. S. A., retired, whom Filipino leaders have signified would be acceptable to them as Governor-General in succession to the late Gen. Wood was chief of staff to Gen. Pershing in France and one of the outstanding American Military leaders in the World War. West Point cannot claim the credit of educating him. He graduated from Kansas State Agricultural College and at one time expected to be a farmer. He was attracted to the military service, enlisted as a private, and got his commission as a lieutenant in the cavalry in 1891. In the war with Spain, both in Cuba and the Philippines, he made an admirable record especially in the Asiatic Archipelago, where, more than any other man, it is said, he so shaped the native constabulary as to make it one of the best auxiliary forces ever known to the nations with dependencies. Since his retirement from the army in 1922 Gen. Harbor has been president of the Radio Corporation of America.

How dull business would be if every man refrained from buying until he could afford it.

England Lags In Art Says Albert Coates Back From Moscow

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 23. — From an artistic point of view, England is fifty years behind modern Russia, according to Albert Coates, the famous conductor and former director of the Russian Imperial Opera, who has just returned from another visit to Moscow.

"The artistic life of Russia can only be described as marvellous," Coates said in an interview. "The events of the last few years have deepened the character of the people and concentration their energies in spiritual channels. We have much to learn from the Russians."

In the autumn Coates is conducting the Rimsky-Korsakov opera on Mozart, which C. B. Cochran is producting at the Albert Hall, and he has interested Cochran in Russia to such an entent that he is going to Leningrad and Moscow in the spring to see what ideas he can pick up from the Russian theatre.

"In the course of two and a half months in Leningrad," Coates said, "I conducted at thirty-odd performances and every one of them was packed. They were thrilling audiences, intent the whole time. The opera and the theatres are all crammed, and new forms of art are being tried out every day.

"The Russian have pushed symbolistic decoration to its furthest extent. You often see a stage absolutely bare of furniture, decorated only with great symbolic designs. I saw the production of a new German opera in which the harsh spirit of modernity was symbolized in the decorations which were made entirely of steel, there being a revolving central stage in the middle of the main stage to save scene-shifting.

"I hope to bring something of the spirit of Russia to England this year."

POTTSTOWN, Sept. 23.—Falling from a swing in a school play ground, 11-year-old Edward Watton was seriously hurt and was removed to the Pottstown hospital for surgical treatment. He sustained deep lacerations of the scalp and head.

Man Who Suggested Paris Convention Goes To France

(International News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 23. — John Bowe of Minneapolis, noted and oft decorated soldier of fortune, is enroute to Paris to attend the convention of the American Legion.

Bowe is credited with being the first American to suggest Paris as a convention city of the Legion.

In an editorial entitled, "Mr. Bowe has an Idea," the Stars and Stripes, official paper of the A. E. F., carried the following early in 1920:

"I believe that the Legion should plan some way for holding its 1927 convention in Paris. There are a lot of good reasons for holding the convention and reunion in Paris, all of which will occur to each and every American veteran who thinks about it."

Bowe is credited with being the first Minnesotan to bear arms in the World War.

After the convention is over in Paris, he will go on a two months' bicycle tour of the battlefields and will hunt for two places where he cached souvenirs of battle in the early months of the World War.

Miss Barbanti Brings News From Homeland To Italian Residents

"People interested in Italy have kept me very busy ever since I returned Tuesday," stated Miss Antoinette Barbanti, Italian worker at the international institute on Pennsylvania avenue, conducted by the local Y. W. C. A. "Every one is interested in how things are going in his own particular little village or city."

Continuing, Miss Barbanti declared that her trip would be an immense help to her in her work. Although she is conversant with all of the dialects of Italy, yet to get a personal insight into how the people live at home will help her to understand how they feel in America, away from the country that they must love.

Next week Miss Barbanti will open both her daily and evening classes. Tonight there will be a meeting of the Italian Girl Reserves at 7 o'clock.

When she arrived in New Castle, Sam Galano, the father of 11-year-old Lilia Galano, who accompanied Miss Barbanti back from Italy, met them at the station and took the party, consisting of the girl, Miss Barbanti, Miss W. J. N. Sroczynska and Miss Emma B. Moore, to his home in Wampum, where they had dinner. After dinner all the friends of the Galano family met at their home to welcome Miss Lilia back to America. She will start to school Monday.

There will be a party at the institute on Pennsylvania avenue Thursday, September 29, in the afternoon for the pupils of Miss Moore. A most cosmopolitan group will be represented, which will include Greeks, Syrians, Hebrews, Hungarians, Armenians and Roumanians. The afternoon will be spent in music and conversation, after which refreshments will be served.

DAVE CARSON STRUCK BY AUTO

Dave Carson, well known about town, was struck Thursday by the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy company truck driven by Herman Steinbrink, 106 East Reynolds street, at North Diamond Way and West Washington street, and knocked to the ground. Carson was removed to the Shenango Valley hospital, where it was found that he had sustained slight injuries of the left leg and back, but had escaped any serious injury. At the hospital, it was stated that he was doing all right and would not be detained at the hospital for any great length of time.

According to the report made to the police, Carson was standing in the middle of the street, as Steinbrink made a left hand turn from North Diamond Way onto Washington street and did not get out of the way.

Girls of a former era didn't have to have a newspaper column to weep in. If they had a man's shoulder to sob on they were content.

His mother expected the boy to be a leader but father made a better guess when he picked him for a trailer.

Dr. J. E. Conant Discusses Excuses

Speaker Sites Many Feeble Excuses That People Give For Not Becoming Christians

"The person who makes an excuse for not becoming a Christian, is living in a fool's paradise," so declared Dr. J. E. Conant last night at the First Baptist church. He said that such a person was saying in reality: "Please excuse me from having my soul saved, from going to heaven, from seeing my loved ones who have died in the faith."

"While there are many excuses for rejecting Christ," asserted the preacher, "they are excuses only, for no one can have a reason for not becoming a follower of Jesus Christ." He then showed that the real reason lying back of all the multitude of excuses which the unsaved offer, is that they do not want to be separated from their sins; the excuse being only a self-manufactured salve for the conscience.

The evangelist then took up several of the more common excuses, showing how utterly baseless each one is. None of the excuse makers received such a volley of argument, ironmy, satire and sarcasm, as the man who says he is not a Christian because there are too many hypocrites in the church. "Why should the unfaithfulness of some Christian give you a warrant for serving the devil?" inquired the evangelist. He further asserted: "The hypocrite is the smallest and meanest man in the world, save one; and that one is the man who hides in the hypocrite's shadow." Dr. Conant then took such excuses as: "I tried once and failed;" "I'm afraid I can't hold out;" "I don't have the right kind of feeling;" "I am waiting for my time to come to be saved;" and "I expect to be saved, but not tonight." He showed how the devil uses each one of these lying refuges for the damnation of thousands of souls. He closed by urging every unsaved person to embrace the present opportunity and be saved at once.

Prayer was offered by Missionary "Ted" Weimer, formerly of this city. The musical feature of the evening was a duet by A. C. Smith and D. S. Williams. Dr. Conant announced that tonight he will speak on "Why I Believe In Pergatory," Sunday the present campaign will close with three services at which Dr. Conant will speak on the following subjects: 11 a. m., "How the Lilies Grow;" 2:30 p. m., "The Signs of Christ's Second Coming," and 7:30 p. m., "Mother, Home and Heaven." The public is cordially invited to all of these services.

THE EXPOSURE

He had poured forth passionate declarations of love to the pretty girl at his side. He had not thought himself capable of such eloquence.

Yet in the midst of his loving words the girl yawned. Even though she raised her hand to conceal it, it did not escape his eager eye. His torrent of burning words ceased.

"Why speak to you of love?' he cried bitterly. "You, who are so utterly heartless. Your yawn showed it."

"Oh, Clarence," she whispered, horror-stricken, "did I open my mouth as wide as that?"—Answers, London.

Intolerant people are those who like their own faults and vices better than yours.

Some Local Comment Ideas and Suggestions As Given To News Man

By ALFRED SWIFT

MISS ANTOINETTE BARBANTI
Italian Worker, International Institute

Since I have returned from my vacation in Italy I have tried to jump right into the middle of my work. But I find it rather hard to do. People, it seems, want first-hand information about conditions over there, and I do not blame them. It is the country that they love, and no matter if they are naturalized, they still think rather fondly of the old country.

NAT WILLIAMS
Health Department

Well, there is one place on Long avenue where I feel that I am always welcome, and that is at the office of 'Squire Cooper.

Although I worked with the squire for over seven years, yet we are still friends, and that is saying quite a lot. But we never did have a harsh word, although we have had some pretty stiff arguments.

For instance, the 'squire does not like some of the candidates that I voted for in the last election. But that is all right; every man has a right to his own opinion.

I am sure that if everyone would take this attitude they would be just as good friends as the 'squire and I are.

JACK YOUNG
Blaine Street

Some people tell me that the reason that a man bets on boxing matches and things like that is because he has more money than he needs.

However, it seems to me that most people bet because they think that they will make more money by doing so. And, sometimes they do, and sometimes they do not, so the thing stands about equal.

IVOR V. DAVIS
South Side Merchant

Well, all that I can say is that I am very sorry that the dinner which the city treasurer candidates are having at the Leslie Hotel next Tuesday night is not being held at my expense. But I am sure that a good man got the job, and I am sure that I speak for all the losing candidates when I say that we congratulate him and wish him every success in the office.

Harmony Baptist Missionary Meeting

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Harmony Baptist church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. McClelland Hogue at Hazel Dell Stop, Ellwood City.

Their large front porch made a delightful place to quilt, sew and chat. At noon a fine tureen dinner was served.

Immediately following the dinner a business meeting was held. It was decided to send canned fruit to the Baptist Orphanage at Pittsburgh. The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Francis Reno in October, to which not only members of the society but all members of the church are invited.

Fathers And Sons Will Hold Banquet

S. DeGraff Pearson Will Be The Speaker Of The Event Next Wednesday

The annual Fathers and Sons banquet of Trinity Episcopal parish will be an event of Wednesday evening, September 28 at 6:30 o'clock in the guildroom of the church. From present indications it will be one of the most interesting of such events ever held. The affair will be held under the auspices of the Men's club of the church.

Attorney Thomas W. Dickey will be toastmaster of the occasion, while S. DeGraff Pearson, well known business man of this city, will be the speaker. The latter will have something most interesting to tell those so fortunate as to be present.

In addition to the address of Mr. Pearson, there will be a number of short talks by a number of those in attendance and there will also be an interesting program by Sons of the church.

Those men of the parish planning to attend the event should get in touch with Lewis J. Lewis, secretary of the Men's club, in order that it may be known how many will be present. He may be found either at the office of the Penn-Ohio Electric company or his home on Wildwood avenue.

Giant Cabbage Head Causes Much Comment

A giant cabbage head measuring three feet seven inches in circumference, grown by James Fleming of Fleming Way, is on display in the window of the Whitla Plumbing company, Croton avenue. This is quite a freak to be produced by the cabbage family, and it is causing much comment from passersby.

Judging from this, things look encouraging for saur kraut lovers.

City Treasurer Candidates Will Have Get-Together

City treasurer candidates are going to prove that the battle in which they engaged was not for blood, and after it was all over that they still are friends.

Tuesday evening, Sept. 27, the five losers in the fight are going to have the opportunity officially to congratulate the winner, Louis W. McClung, at a dinner to be held in his honor at the Leslie hotel.

There is a joker connected with the affair, though. The banquet, given in honor of the victor, must also be paid for by the victor, state the five losing candidates.

Ivor V. Davis will be chairman of the banquet.

Magazine Basket.

An ingenious woman describes how she salvaged a worn-out market basket and made it into a useful and ornamental article. "Had a high, narrow market basket, the ends of which were broken, so I cut them off. This left the sides and handle intact. Purchased a yard of rose colored oilcloth. Cut off a strip and wound it around the handle. Then covered the inside and outside with oilcloth.

By leaving the ends open this made a nice magazine basket for the porch. One could stencil a design on the outside if desired. The oilcloth is waterproof and keeps papers and magazines dry.

Memorial Tablet Will Be Unveiled At Bethel Church

On Sabbath evening, September 25, in the Bethel United Presbyterian church of Enon Valley a Memorial Tablet will be unveiled in memory of the Rev. James S. Dice, who for more than forty years ministered to this congregation.

An appropriate and interesting meeting has been arranged for this occasion. Dr. James Ferguson, pastor of the Bellevue United Presbyterian church will give the Memorial address. The Misses Althea Gwin and Helen Dice, granddaughters of Mr. Dice, will pull the ribbons which unveil the tablet.

Bethel church is one of the oldest churches in the community. It was organized in 1798 on what was then known as the Seften farm in Little Beaver Valley which later became the John McCown farm. The first place of worship was a crude tent-like structure which eventually gave place to a small wooden building. In 1804 the church was moved to the present location. On the site, in 1870, the present structure was erected. To meet the need of a growing community it was remodeled in 1904. But even this change was hardly adequate to answer to the wants of an active congregation, a growing Bible school and a live Young People's organization and it was found necessary to once more remodel the building.

This was done within the past year. The church building was moved to a new foundation some fifty feet from the road and thoroughly renovated within and without. The change makes possible splendid Bible school room in the basement, as well as facilities for a dining room and kitchen.

Rev. George N. Neill is the present pastor of the congregation.

A hearty invitation is extended to all former members and friends of Bethel church who have moved from the immediate community to be present at these services.

Two popular musical instruments are the dinner horn and the horn of plenty.

HARDWARE MEN ASSEMBLE HERE

Western Pennsylvania Merchants Have Conference In Fountain Inn

Seventy-five hardware men of western Pennsylvania met last evening at the Fountain Inn, where they held a banquet, after which speeches by men of national position in the hardware field were heard.

Aside from the large local delegation, men from Greenville, Sharon, Grove City, Farrell, Slippery Rock, Ellwood City, Beaver Falls and Beaver were present.

Dick Pierce of Philadelphia, field secretary of the Hardware association, presided, and introduced Harry Kyser, also of Philadelphia, who spoke on what the city hardware merchant can learn from the small town dealer.

"A New Angle on Sales Policy and Promotion," was the subject of the next talk, which was given by Harry Parks. This was a novelty, as it was accompanied by motion pictures and interspersed with explanations and new sales ideas.

Senator George Sprouls of Claysville was the next speaker, with the subject of "Chain Store Competition —How Can We Survive?", while Harry Dietz of Clarion, former state president of the association, reviewed the transformation from the old to the modern type hardware store.

After the speeches the guests heard the Dempsey-Tunney fight returns.

Youth Attempts To Take Life By Drinking Poison

(International News Service)

KANE, Pa., Sept. 23.—Afraid to go to school without a lesson he had failed to prepare, Chester Smith, 11, of Mt. Jewett, near here, drank almost the entire contents of a bottle of household poison in an attempt to commit suicide, and as a result he was in a serious condition today in the Kane-Summit hospital.

The boy was determined not to go to school for fear of being sent to the principal with other delinquents, the promised punishment, if the pupils came to school without their lessons.

While his mother was in another room young Smith went to the bathroom and drank the poison. Prior to this he gave 20 cents to a brother, saying he wouldn't "need it any more."

Physicians say he has a good chance for recovery.

$150,000,000 Air Program Of U. S. To Be Enlarged

Inspection Of Military Defenses Shows Need Of Extension Of Plans

Canal Zone And Hawaii Two Most Vital Spots In New Scheme

By MAURITZ A. HALLGREN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. — Enlargement of the present $150,000,000 five year army air program may soon become necessary, in the opinion of Rep. W. Frank James (Republican) of Michigan, who was chairman of the House military affairs committee made an inspection tour of the country's military defenses.

The projected increase would be applied to the Canal Zone and Hawaiian defenses, the most vital spots in the denfense scheme. Twice as many airplanes are needed at both places as are now provided under the five year program, he said.

James gave his committee credit for stimulating interest in aeronautics by passing the $150,000,000 air bill.

"The passage of the law," he said, stimulated activity among the manufacturers of airplanes. It spelled progress in national defense and encouragement to the aircraft industry.

Important To Defenses

Aviation's importance with respect to national defense "can not be over estimated," the chairmen continued. "It may be that the next war, whenever and wherever and however that may happen, will not be won by aircraft. Certainly, however, that country which lacks a sufficient air defense would be the loser in such a contest.

Referring to the necessity of sending more planes to Panama and Hawaii, James said:

"Army officers in Panama advised me that the real defense of the Panama Canal lay in airplanes. There is the France aviation field on the Atlantic side of the canal, and several million dollars are to be expended on the Allbrook aviation field on the Pacific side.

A week's inspection in Hawaii convinced me that similar conditions exist in that outpost of our country. The military authorities in charge of the Hawaiian Department of the Army told me, as the Panama Canal officers had told me as to the canal, that aircraft constitutes the real defense of those islands and that twice as many airplanes are needed there as are provided under the five year program we put through Congress last year.

Need Air Protection

"Greater air defenses are urged for national defense by men in other branches of the Government service with whom I talked.

"I inspected every military post, fort, battery and military base on Oahu Island, making what was said to be the most thorough and comprehensive inspection of Oahu's defenses ever made by a Member of Congress."

James contended that Hawaii "is the American key of national defense on the Pacific Coast, whose occupation by an enemy would endanger California, Oregon and Washington. It must be adequately defended, whatever the cost may be."

Pastor Brews To Keep Up Alimony

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 23—The Rev. B. F. Wooten, pastor of a small country church near here, has been forced to make and sell home brew in order that he might pay his divorced wife $85 a month alimony, according to his own story. Bob Green and Eugene Eubanks, county marshals, said they found thirty-five gallons of brew in his home when they searched it.

Mr Wooten sold his home brew in one-gallon cans, and averaged $35 a week from these sales, he told the officers.

"This is the first dirty trick I ever did," said Mr. Wooten when arrested. "But I was forced to make home brew to raise money to pay my former wife the alimony which the court allowed her, or go to jail, I never drank the brew."

Medical Schools Not Practical, Is Charge

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—That the modern medical school teach too little of the practical side of medicine was charged here today by Dr. Nathan S. Davis, associate in medicine at Northwestern University's medical school.

The medical student in the old days "knew much of the art and business of medicine from his close association with a preceptor for eight months a year for two or three years, but very little of the science of medicine," said Dr. Nathan, urging a return to preceptorships, under modifications of the old system to meet the changed conditions of today.

Medical colleges should introduce a system of preceptorships, he declared, and call upon the students to work twelve months a year instead of nine. This would prove a "source of inspiration to both student and teachers," he said. "It would give the students the instruction they need in the art and science of medicine."

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Vincent Matzka, Czech immigrant, dreamed 22 years ago in a makeshift laboratory in Czecho-Slavokia of a process to preserve fruit juices in their natural state without artificial aid and now will receive $150,000 cash and royalties that may reach $1,000,000. The Kelly Dry-Pure Juice Corporation has obtained exclusive rights to the use of Matzka's patents.

Chicago Crime To Be Fought By New System

Expect Plans To Change Present Methods To Test Gangs And Gunmen

Says Criminal Mind Is Like Railway Yard; Full Of Tracks And Switches

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 23. — Reducing Chicago crime by segregating the mentally unfit is to be carried on, under an entirely new system of tests, treatments and cures.

Fresh from a stay in Europe, Dr. William Hickson, chief of the city's psychopathic laboratory, has launched a plan, which he claims will almost entirely clear Chicago streets of its machine-gun gangsters, warring booze factions and gun-toting morons of high and low degree.

Possibly even the gland cure for mental ailments will be tried on the gunmen, Dr. Hickson declared.

He is enthusiastic over a glandular extract supplied by guinea pigs and said to have obtained extremely satisfactory results abroad.

Change In Tests

It is Dr. Hickson's plan to supplant the present Binet-Simon tests now used in the psychopatic laboratory with a new system which he studied in Europe. The new style of testing persons believed mentally deficient, Dr. Hickson declared was developed by Prof. Kraemer of Berlin, a former exchange professor at Harvard, and is a "gestalt-pschologie" or "mind pattern psychology system.

"The new method is more direct, more positive and more objective," the Chicago expert said. "It's conclusions are more reliable.

"At present we examine the mental reaction and now we plan to examine the physical reaction. We will diagnose the physical, rather than the mental."

Dr. Kraemer has discovered, Dr. Hickson reported, that persons have certain connections in their minds that are like railway switches; people do not have individual minds but minds work according to a pattern.

"It has been learned," Dr. Hickson continued, "that mental diseases are a physical science, instead of a science of observation. That means that the tests of gunmen should be more neurological."

Gland Treatment

The expert said under the system to be adopted here the alleged defectives would be made to cross the arms loosely, whirl their bodies about, have their knees jerked, receive tappings around the body and given various other psysical tests.

Dr. Hickson is of the opinion that a great factor in reducing crime in America in the future will be the segregation of the mentally ill. He declared he would advocate "moron farms" for Chicago.

Injection of gland secretions from animals, such as guinea pigs, bringing a development of sub-normal glands in humans, react favorable and in time gland-treatments will be developed to the extent they will cure many ailments, including epilepsy, according to Dr. Hickson.

LUDWIG COMPANY FACING INQUIRY

Building Clerk Declares Company Has Violated Law Here

Neil Williams, clerk, building bureau, today charged before city council that the Ludwig company has violated an ordinance and immediately after the charge was sounded, Solicitor Robert White ordered an investigation.

Williams charged that the Max Ludwig company had commenced building a frame building near their West Washington street garage. The matter was called to Fire Chief Lynn's attention and both city officials ordered building stopped.

Williams told solons the firm next took out a permit for a building of steel frame and he alleged today the building, so far, does not conform to the permit and it is situated in the fire zone. He also charged they were tearing down and enlarging a billboard at East Washington street and Butler avenue without a permit.

Councilman Davies said: "The police should bring them in and fine them." He moved that the matter be placed before Attorney White.

"If the police discover a drunken man violating law they arrest him. They should do the same here" said Burns.

It was explained the police had no knowledge of the affair but Burns said they should make inquiry for permits when such things are noticed.

Council decided finally to place the affair in Solicitor White's jurisdiction and he immediately ordered the police to get busy.

Chinese Blame Ruined Market On Bolshevism

Lack Of Stability In Government Also Aids In Disturbing Markets

Securities In Big Drop With Government Issues On Toboggan

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEKING, Sept. 23.—The staggering results of the past year's war, Russian manipulation of Chinese leaders and the general financial incompetency of the latter, are mutely told in the statistics gathered by a local foreign brokerage firm.

Six of the most stable of Chinese Government securities were taken by foreign financiers and an average trading price figured from August of last year to date. The mean price for that month was 92.5. At present it is 54.9.

At Low Level

The scale gradually runs down to the present low level following almost exactly the successes of the so-called nationalist movement which under Russian guiding moved northward ruining the foreign concessions at Hankow, menacing the Shanghai International Settlement and ending with the Nanking outrages.

Upon those more obvious symbols of lack of stability in nationalist ranks, there came the orgy of taxation, the total disregard for foreign treaties which guaranteed customs returns as security of government loans and the complete disintegration of the salt tax bureau on which other foreign loans are based.

Sensational Drop

Discussing this sensational drop in Chinese securities, the foreign broker who gives the statistics, asserts that war should be debited with the greatest responsibility for the ruin. Constant demands for funds to contnue buying munitions and flinging money away on armies, has sapped the surplus everywhere with the result that internal trade in China is almost at a standstill. Nobody has any money and a progressive decrease in the government revenues follows.

Bolshevism has likewise lent a burly shoulder to the wheel with a downhill shove, says the broker. Everything possible was done by that agency to prevent the Chinese people from going to work or letting anyone else do so in areas where bolshevism became implanted.

We heard some of the Seattle people had canceled their reservations for the Dempsey-Tunney spectacle in Illinois. That's the advantage of having Mt. Rainier.

Wouldn't it be great if you could send the dishes to the laundry and the house to the cleaner?

Dieting Fad Dying Says Medical Editor

CHICAGO, Sept 23.—The reducing menace which threatened to kill off the red blood of the Nation has brought a reaction against unscientific systems of dieting to reduce fat, according to Dr. Morris Fishbein, Secretary of the American Medical Association, and editor of the American Medical Journal.

"Individuals ignorantly striving for health have imperiled the health of the Nation," he said. "If the false gospel of unscientific dieting continues to prevail for a few generations, the United States would become a Nation of undersized weaklings and anaemics lacking in both physical and mental force."

Dr. Fishbein advocates reducing by cutting down the total amount of food but iliminating none of the staple foods on which vigor depends.

Big Families In Ohio Town Dwindle School Man Says

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—Lakewood has an estimated population of 60,000, but there are only 33 families in the city that have six or more children.

These figures are from C. J. Rock, attendance officer of the Lakewood public schools, in the latest annual report of the schools.

Lakewood probably has fewer apartment houses than any city of its size in the country and Rock's report showing few big families in the community is causing comment among school officials and residents.

It shows, they say, that big families are getting scarcer every year, even in suburbs filled with thousands of single homes and big yards.

Rock's report indicates that there are three families in Lakewood with eight children; nine families with 11 children and 21 families with six children.

Rock, who visits hundreds of homes annually, blames the prevalence of irregular attendance of children on parents. "In most cases of truancy both parents are working and the children are left on their honor to get to school on time," he says. "In other cases parents do not take enough interest in their children to see that they go to school."

Total enrollment in the public schools for 1927 was 10,826 according to the report. Officials estimate that the enrollment in 1932 will be 12,427. In 1907 only 1,513 children were enrolled in school. A comparison shows the great growth of the city during the last 20 years.

The cost of operating the schools during 1926-27 was $1,236,692. There are 404 teachers.

Never worry about how late it is because it never is as late as it will be a little later.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

It's surprising what a large crowd can do in the way of littering up a street with paper and refuse in a short time. North Mercer street in front of The News office this morning, after the immense crowd spent several hours in front of The News building hearing Dempsey-Tunney fight returns last night, looked like a lot of good, hard work for the street cleaning department.

Why not a tearing down day? By that we mean a day to tear down the placards that were posted about the city and county prior to the primary. Wouldn't it be a good idea for the candidates themselves to see to it that the placards are pulled down? Here and there over the county are still to be noted posters that were put up for a campaign two years ago.

The suggestion of Mr. Myers that a small grass plot be placed in the street intersection at Lincoln and Highland avenues, is not bad. That would be a capital idea and would enhance the beauty of the Cathedral surroundings.

Some idea of the speed with which newspaper work is handled nowadays can be gained by letting you in on a News secret. With the fight taking place in Chicago, Ill., at midnight, pictures of the battle were in The News office at nine o'clock this morning, and a short time later were ready for reproduction in The News issue that you are reading.

The Castleton is nearly complete as far as the exterior appearance goes. The small shanty that has graced Falls street, used as headquarters for the contractors, has been removed.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A young man among my acquaintances is an appropriate example of the multitude of eccentrics that may be found in New York. He has three luxurious and expensive hobbies: interior decoration, foreign automobiles and grand opera. And he has scarcely a cent to his name.

His way of enjoying his hobbies is vicarious. Many a Sunday afternoon or week-day evening he spends visiting beautifully furnished apartments on Park avenue that are for rent. On these occasions he dresses up in his best clothes, after carefully pressing his suit himself, and poses as a young plutocrat looking for a suitable domicile. He walks through the rooms with the renting agent and with the air of a connoisseur examines the fabrics in the carpets and upholstery, scrutinizes the grain of the wood-work, runs his fingers lovingly over the objects d'art, and from an advantageous perspective contemplates the ensemble of a room.

He also attends the auction sales of furniture, especially when some fine collection of period stuff is under the hammer at an art gallery. Sometimes he enjoys the thrill of bidding but always with the safe knowledge that someone will outbid him. Catalogue in hand, he will make the rounds of the auction rooms, studying tapestries and consoles, glass chandeliers and Persian rugs.

Motor cars he studies in the same way. He frequents the flossy salesrooms about Columbus Circle pricing cars that sell for as high as $20,000. After having the merits of the motors explains to him, he has no compunctions about yielding to the salesman's insistence that he take a Haspano-Suiza roadster for a spin around Central park. As one of the few luxuries he permits himself is a packet of engraved cards which he nonchalantly hands the salesman when the latter asks for his name, his ability to buy a car is never questioned.

The youth refuses to sit in the lofty galleries of the Metropolitan when he hears an opera. Instead he saves, sometimes for weeks, on food and car fare, until he can buy an orchestra seat. He lunches and dines on sandwiches and baked beans and walks miles to save a nickel. When he goes to the opera, he does it right. He does not wear a dinner coat. He has a full dress suit with white waistcoat, which he acquired by great thrift and which he guards with precious care. He also has a top hat and a black stick.

And he travels by himself. He has no kindred souls in the kind of amusement he likes. He is by nature a solitary, though he occasionally likes companionship, and he is a dreamer who is capable of converting his dreams into a form of reality. Perhaps if he were rich, his tastes would take another turn; for with the means to satisfy his tastes there would be no call upon his imagination. Were he rich, doubtless he would have a taste for dressing like a bum and mingling with characters in the underworld.

Ruining Graves For Sourenirs

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 23.—In their eager hunt for souvenirs tourists in Svalbard have desecrated the graves of unfortunate explorers and in some instances has even taken skulls away. Svalbard, or Spitzbergen, as the island group was called before coming under the control of Norway, for centuries marked the northernmost point reached by men in attempts to conquer the north pole. Hundreds of brave men met death on its lonely shores, and their surviving comrades north, covering the bodies with stones, with a crude wooden cross surmounting the mound. The Norwegian authorities have taken steps to prevent further profanation of these graves.

Goodies Are Barred To the Fat

Excess fat causes many constant self-denials. Every day brings a new fight, and only a small percentage gain in those ways what they seek. The real cause is left uncorrected.

Over 20 years ago medical science discovered a great cause of excess fat. It lies in lack of a substance which controls nutrition. A factor which Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy, rather than into fat.

Then that factor was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Now people have used them for two decades—millions of boxes of them. They have told the results to others. Today everyone can see that excess fat is nowhere near as common as it was. In almost every circle slenderness prevails.

The use of Marmola requires no abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. Users simply take four tablets daily until they correct the cause. They know what they are taking, and why. The formula is given in every box, also the reasons for all results. Every user knows why the benefits come, and why they involve no harm.

You should try Marmola. Consider what it has done for so long, for so many. Watch what it brings to you in new beauty, new health and vitality. Learn the easy, pleasant, right way to a normal figure. As long as you live you may be glad that you found this scientific method. Order now—before you forget it. Do not wait.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

Moonlight Rainbow Lasts 30 Minutes

(International News Service)

DENVER, Sept. 23.—Residents of Castle Rock, south of here, marveled recently at a lunar phenomena described by them as a "moonlight rainbow."

The lunar halo, they declared, appeared in the west against the shadowy background of the mountain range just as full moon rose in the east. Simultaneously a low hanging cloud cast a silvery mist over the entire town.

Residents said the rainbow colorings were clearly distinguishable, the bow of a silvery appearance, with a deep red on the lower band, fading into blue, gren and the orange.

The difference between the platform and the board room is the difference between the unpractical and the practical.—J. H. Thomas.

Friend Few Feet Away Unhurt As Bolt Kills Man

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—George A. Baldwin, thirty-seven, was killed when he was struck by a bolt of lightning as he stood in the back yard of his home, No. 17 Harte Street, Baldwin, L. I., yesterday afternoon during a thunderstorm. A neighbor, named Phelan, to whom Baldwin was talking, who was standing a few feet away when the bolt struck, was unhurt.

Phelan told police it had just begun to rain and they were discussing the storm when Baldwin crumpled before him and fell to the ground. Phelan said he felt a slight shock, but was unharmed. Baldwin's body was badly burned. He is survived by his wife and an infant son.

Wife—My husband's ears bother him terribly.

Doctor—Send him to the seashore. If he can't go—you go!—Kansas City Time

Ancient Roman Kitchen Is Unearthed In England

EPSOM, Surrey, Sept. 23.—Roman remains dating back to the time when the British Amazonian Queen Boadicea rose in revolt, have been brought to light near here.

Excavations on the site of the Roman villa in Ashstead Wood, discovered by A. Lowther, two years ago, have shown that underneath and extending beyong the rear of the building are the walls of an earlier structure. From the manner in which it was built and the style of the material used it is considered that it was destroyed about 60, A. D., or the period of the rising of Boadicea. The later building probably dates to the time of Hadrian, 130, A. D., and remained to judge from the latest finds of pottery, until at least 250 A. D.

The latest discoveries include a kitchen with an oven tilted at the side and cemented at the bottom full of charcoal, an enamel bronze brooch with the design of a dolphin on it, two blue glass beads, a silver coin of Hadrian, and a small head of a swan in bronze.

Will Celebrate Rosh Hashanah

New Year's Services To Be Conducted At Temple Israel Next Week

On Tuesday, Sept. 27th, the Jews will celebrate festival of the New Year, or Rosh Hashanah. Religious services ushering in the year 588 will be held on that day in all the synagogs of the world. The holiday commences at sunset Monday evening, Sept. 26, and ends at sunset the following day. Orthodox Jews, however, observe two days.

The festival is distinguished by the blowing of the Shofar or ram's horn. In addition to its joyous and optimistic character it is one of great solemnity and sacredness. On Rosh Hashanah the worshipers recall to mind the misdeeds of the past year with a view to consecrating themselves to a nobler life during the years to come. The religious service which marks the observance of the holy day emphasizes that the door to improvement and betterment is constantly open.

The New Year is the beginning of the most sacred of the Jewish holiday seasons. It is the first of the Ten Days of Penitence, culminating in the Day of Atonement, the holiest and most sacred day in the Jewish calendar. A few days after the Day of Atonement, the Feast of Succoth or Tabernacles is celebrated during a period of eight days in commemoration of the ancient Palestinian harvest festival and of the wanderings of the Israelites through the wilderness.

At Temple Israel (corner Highland and Moody avenues) New Year's services will be held Monday evening, Sept. 26, at eight o'clock and Tuesday morning, Sept. 27, at 10:15. Rabbi J. B. Menkes officiating.

The twins were very much alike, but their father, a piano tuner, had an excellent method of identifying them.

He explained to an admiring friend one day that he could always tell the difference between them even in the dark. The method was to pinch them.

"But," cried his friend, "you surely wouldn't do that? It would make them cry, poor little things."

"Precisely," replied the father, "that is the idea. Listen. This one" he pinched one of the twins—"is evidently Billy, he cries in high C. While this"—he pinched the other—"is James. He is always a semi-tone lower."—Answers, London.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

SEAL CUB'S CRADLE SONG

"'I intended to keep watch beside the weary stranger until she awakened, but the warm sun and the soothing lapping of the waves upon the rocks were too much for me, and soon I too, had gone to Dreamland. Goodness knows how long I slept—time counts for little in the life of a Turtle, he has so much of it to spare—but when I opened my eyes, what do you think I saw?'

"'What?' demanded the Turtles and the Terrapins and the Tortoises, in chorus.

"The cunningest, fattest little cub you could imagine, and it was snuggled close to the stranger's side.

"'Good gracious, when did that little fellow arrive?' gasped I. 'He looks like you!'

"'And so he should—bless his little heart, for he is my baby son and he arrived while you were asleep. 'Go to sleep, my little blue-eyed Sealkin,
Safe from harm 'neath Mammy's watchful eye.
Slumber on the bare rock
High above the waters,
While the ocean croons a lullaby!'

crooned the big stranger to the tiny one, gently fanning it with her funny flippers. But I was puzzled no longer. I had guessed who my guest was.

"'Welcome to the rock, Mother Seal!' cried I. 'I have been here so long by myself I am glad to have company. Even a Turtle gets lonely with only the sand and the sea for company. That's a pretty cradle-song you are singing to your cub!'

"'How nice of you to give me such hearty greetings, Turtle. I am glad you like my lullaby—'tis one my mother sang to me,' declared Mother Seal, as she bleated with pleasure. Then suddenly her expression changed and she clapped a flipper to her head.

"'Oh, dear me, Turtle, how my head does ache! No wonder, with the blow it received!'"

Next—"Ocean Rangers."

"GO TO SLEEP, MY LITTLE BLUE-EYED SEALKIN"

Lindbergh Sees Need Of Better Flying Schools

Waste Of Money, He Says, To Take Aviation Course In "Ten Hours"

Many Accidents Blamed On Insufficient Training By Cheap Instructors

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Sept. 23.—Although Col. Charles A. Lindbergh entertains the fond wish to see the skies dotted with roaring, speeding airplanes, he does not want this wish fulfilled at too great a cost in human life. As a precaution against unnecessary accidents he has issued a warning against aviation schools where the training is insufficient.

"You can find," Colonel Lindbergh stated, "many schools which advertise that they will teach a novice how to fly an airplane. Some of them give the course for $100, usually turning out the student as a finished pilot after about ten hours in the air.

Practice Needed.

"Ten hours of flying will not make anyone a pilot, and $100 will not buy a very good course in training. I really believe it is almost a waste of money to take such a course. The man or woman who wishes to become a pilot should be prepared to spend at least $500 for the training, and some agreement should be reached whereby the use of a plane for practice may be obtained after the course has been completed."

A great many aviation accidents occur because of these men who are turned out of cheap schools, firm in the belief they are master pilots, Lindbergh said. They are told they can fly when in fact they have not even learned the rudiments of the game, he added.

Colonel Lindbergh also deplored the fact that the average person, in reading of aviation accidents, does not take in consideration the difference between commercial flying and stunt, test and pioneer flying.

Stunt Accidents.

"The idea that commercial aviation is dangerous, is erroneous," Lindbergh asserted. "Over lines where regular inspection is made and reasonable care is taken few accidents occur. In stunt flying, in making tests and in pioneering hops the story is different. There always is danger in tests, and accidents will continue to occur, but these mishaps should not be considered as proof that flying is dangerous. Someone must take the risks, as in every other endeavor."

Lindbergh believes it would be fatal to the progress of aviation to attempt to halt long flights over water or uncharted sections of the earth. He believes, though, that those backing such flights should insist that every precaution to insure success be taken. The tragic results in the Dole flight were brought about, in his opinion, because the entrants started without sufficient preparations.

Oil Industry To Honor Vets At Exposition

Pioneers Of Petroleum Fraternity Nominated To Get High Recognition

Men With Fifty-Year Records Hunting Liquid Gold Are Named

(International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 23. — Thirty-seven veterans—the oldest of the oil industry—pioneers in the great enterprise of finding the "black liquid gold," have been nominated to receive the recognition of the Petroleum fraternity, which will gather here during the fourth International Petroleum Exposition, from Sept. 24 to Oct. 1.

All of these thirty-seven pioneers who fought against tremendous odds to wrest the precious fluid from the bosom of the earth and to establish an industry which has made possible many modern comforts, have followed the thrilling and facinating "game" for fifty years, or more, even heeding the calls of "lady luck." Some have obtained riches, while to others, fickle fate has left nothing but rich memories.

Are Old Timers

Most of the veterans began their activities in the oil business in the eventful sixties, and one, Samuel Smith, of Titusville, Pa., helped his father drill the history making Drake well—the first oil well drilled in America, in 1859.

The two oldest in the group are Jacob Sheasley, Franklin, Pa., and Charles McArthur, Kinzua, Pa., each 93 years old. They are still actively engaged in oil leases.

Thrilling are the tales many of these veterans tell, of their experiences in the fields; of oil well fires and explosions; gushers that flooded the country-side, fights for leases and pipeline right-of-way, in which many have lost their lives, the riding of mud scows, filled with oil, down the crest of tides on famous Oil creek in Pennsylvania—such was their lot to contend with, and with only primitive methods and materials at hand.

Pioneer Methods

Wells were drilled with a "Spring Pole" and bits, which resembled more a toothpick when compared with the huge boring tools of modern equipment. Horse, oxen and man formed the power. Billions of feet of natural gas, now so carefully preserved, went to waste.

Eighteen of the list of veterans, came from Pennsylvania, the birth place of the oil industry, while Oklahoma, the present center of the business, comes second with eleven. Three are from California, two from Texas and two from Ohio, and one from Arkansas.

CHARLESTON, W. V., Sept. 23. — Nine new cases of infantile paralysis at Huntington were reported today to the state health department.

From other parts of the state, however, department officials said the situation appeared to be improving. At Martins Ferry, O., across the river from Wheeling, where the epidemic took on serious proportions some time ago, conditions have so improved that schools will be opened there Monday, the department was informed.

Congressman Says France Will Pay All Debts Of War

That Germany Is Prospering Is Statement Of Cochran

MERCER, Pa., Sept. 23.—France will make payment of her war debts is the opinion of Congressman T. C. Cochran of Mercer who has just returned from a two months tour of Europe, visiting the countries of Germany, France and Italy during his stay to determine their attitude on debt payment.

Mr. Cochran was armed with letters of introduction to the leading bankers of these nations and England and made careful investigation of the resources in the banks and the attitude of the bankers toward making payment of war debts to be in a position to speak with authority when the question is brought up at the meeting of the next congress which is certain to happen.

"The French people do not want to pay, feeling that the sufferings endured by them during the period of war should erase any financial obligation held by this government or that of England but the French government and French bankers know that they must meet the obligation and it will be paid" says Cochran.

"Germany is prospering beyond a condition that is generally known in this country" relates Cochran, who is quite optimistic that the country will make payment of all of her promised war reparations as provided for in the Dawes plan.

"I found prosperity and industry on every hand in Germany" says the congressman who states that the paying of even such a large war debt will be met in his opinion.

"England will hold France up to the payment of her war debts that the Britons may make payment to us" is another interesting sidelight related by the congressman.

Administrator Is Made Defendant In Suit For $4,400

Claimed Money Was Loaned On Notes Given By Mrs. Mary O. Brown To S. P. Ferguson

Samuel P. Furguson, guardian now for use of Lawrence Savings & Trust Co., guardian of Sarah Rowena Baird and Clara Gail Baird, minors, has filed a suit in the Lawrence county court against Charles F. Ball, administrator of Mrs. Mary O. Brown, deceased, for $4,400.

The statement of claim avers that Samuel P. Furguson was appointed guardian of the estate of Sarah Rowena Baird and Clara Gail Baird, minor children of Mrs. Mary O. Brown, in September, 1911. Furguson died in July, 1925, and the Lawrence Savings & Trust Co. was appointed guardian of the estate of Sarah Rowena Baird and Clara Gail Baird.

Mrs. Mary O. Brown was the mother of Sarah Rowena Baird and Clara Gail Baird. She died Sept. 15, 1926, and her will was probated and letters issued to Charles F. Ball.

Mrs. Mary O. Brown on Sept. 1, 1920, gave her note to Samuel P. Furguson for $2500 and on Dec. 3, 1921, a note for $1900.

At the time the notes were given by Mrs. Brown her minor children were living with her and she was indebted for the purchase money for her home at the corner of Albert street and Leasure avenue, and the said Samuel P. Furguson, guardian, loaned Mrs. Brown the $4,400 secured by the notes, with the agreement that if she would maintain the minor children the interest on the notes would be credited thereon.

On the death of Mrs. Brown, it is claimed she was indebted to the guardian in the sum of $4,400, for which suit is now brought against her administrator.

Legion Delegates Up All Night To Get Fight News

Tunney General Favorite With Legionnaires In Paris Convention

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Sept. 23.—The American Legion stayed up all night to hear the result of the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago.

Scattered throughout cafes and night clubs in Montmartre and elsewhere, thousands of visiting Legionnaires "made a night of it." When the news that Tunney had won by a decision was flashed through the city about five o'clock this morning, there was general cheering and applause, followed by a fusillade of popping corks.

Tunney's victory met with the general approval of the Legion crowd, because of his war record, while thousands of ex-service men have never quite forgiven Dempsey for working in the shipyards during the war.

Scanlon Asks City To Adjust Matter

Has Never Been Recompensed For Putting Sewer On His Land

For the safety and relief of the scouts on duty lunch will be served to the boys at their variouss tations.

Troop Installed.

Commendation was also given to Mr. Chilton for the fine work he is doing in securing his committee for the instruction and examination of merit badge work.

A letter was read from Vice President John Offutt, reporting progress on the securing of the new scoutmasters' headquarters. Harold McCulloch of the Farm Bureau and chairman of the Rural and Lone Scout committee reported that a club round-up of the country boys would be held next week at the New Castle fair. Mr. McCulloch stated his intentions of interesting the boys present in scouting.

Erie Doctor Is Given Freedom By Ruling Of Judge

Accused Of Illegal Prescription Selling Doctor Is Freed In Court

(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 23.—A ruling by Federal Judge W. H. S. Thomson here that set free Dr. E. H. Drozeski, local physician accused of selling whisky prescriptions, was expected today to set a precedent for such cases throughout the country.

Judge Thomson, after listening to arguments of State Sen. Miles B. Kitts, attorney for Dr. Drozeski, declared that no agent of the government could induce a person to become a criminal as it was evident had been done in this particular case.

Kitts pointed out that inspectors from the prohibition office presented themselves at Dr. Drozeski's office for physical examinations and that the physician had issued permits to them because of their alleged weakened condition.

The case of other physicians arrested with Dr. Drozski will come before the court today and it was expected their attorneys would seek dismissal on similar grounds.

Sheep Expert Will Give Demonstration At New Castle Fair

Dr. Turner Of Harrisburg Secured Through Efforts Of C. G. Jordan

Announcement is made today by the New Castle Agricultural Association that Dr. Turner of the Bureau of Animal Husbandry of Harrisburg, Pa., will give a demonstration on the dipping and drenching of sheep at the New Castle Fair on Thursday afternoon, September 29 at 2 o'clock, at the sheep barns.

During the demonstration Dr. Turner will kill a lamb and a sheep and hold a post mortem of same. All details will be explained to the farmers who witness this event. The demonstration will be interesting as well as educational and all farmers are asked to make a special effort to be there.

Dr. Turner's demonstration here was secured through the efforts of C G. Jordan, Secretary of Agriculture who is sending the sheep expert to the New Castle Fair on that day. New Castle is very fortunate in securing Dr. Turner.

Local Delegate To Springfield, Mass., Tells Of Exposition

George McCracken Writes Of Experiences At Mohawk Indian Village

Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan has received a very interesting letter from Scout George McCracken, Lawrence County Council's representative to the Eastern States Exposition being held at the Mohawk Indian Village at Springfield, Mass.

McCracken is a member of the First Christian Church Troop No. 15. While there he gave demonstrations in signaling and wireless. The exposition was held September 18 to 24 inclusive. The letter follows:

September 21, 1927.

Dear Mr. Calahan:

I arrived here O. K. after a fine trip through beautiful New England. I had to stop in New York for three hours much to my pleasure for I was anxious to at least get a glance of that city.

It would be impossible to give an accurate description of the Indian Village. It surpasses all my expectations. It consists of eight wigwams, ten 16x16 tents, a log cabin and a mess hall.

Everyone is congenial here, which means a lot. I met the Assistant Editor to Boys Life managazine and since have been doing some reporting for Boys Life. He also is interested in telegraphing. I have also had the pleasure to meet Mr. Wessel, the Executive Officer, and have made friends with scouts from Maine to Maryland and West Virginia.

I have been presented with the regulation Mohawk Indian Village Neckerchief. I am getting a lot of pictures up here. Camp Phillips has attracted a lot of interest too.

I am gaining considerable knowledge about Archery, Plaster Work, Taxidermy, Camping, Aviation and Sea Scouting and hope that I will be able to give assistance to the Council and my troop upon my return. I am expecting to bring equipment home with me for demonstration purposes.

Very truly yours,
SCOUT GEORGE McCRACKEN.

Hell is advertised every day. Heaven gets most of its publicity on Sunday.

Perhaps the least fortunate man is the one who hasn't sense enough to make use of what sense he has.

News Extra Out Few Minutes After Chicago Fight; Provides Complete Details Of Battle

For the second time in three days, the New Castle News demonstrated to the people of Lawrence county that service is paramount, when on Thursday night a special fight extra was on the streets of New Castle in a few minutes after Gene Tunney had been awarded the decision over Jack Dempsey in the "The Battle of Three Millions" in Chicago.

Nor was the fight extra just a "bulletin flash". It was a complete story of the fight, round by round, contained a descriptive story of the scene at the ringside, a column of comment and the official weights of both men. Were it impossible for anyone to get any further papers after Thursday night's fight extra of the News, he would still have the entire fight described.

In addition, the News had a blow by blow service during the fight that was appreciated by the 2500 or more fans who were in North Mercer street. A special telegraph wire direct from Soldiers' Memorial stadium was in the News office, with Eddie Fritz, sports editor, announcing the blow by blow account. The News radio augmented the telegraph service.

As the tenth round finished the composing room men stood by waiting for the decision. Immediately after it was announced they rushed the form to the stereotype room and a few minutes later the plate was on its way down to the press room. The News feels justly proud of the speed and accuracy of the fight extra, for it was a further proof of the desire of this paper to serve the people of this country in the most efficient manner possible.

Today pictures of the fight, taken at the ringside in Chicago, appear on the sport page of this edition.

CHARGE NEGRO WITH CUTTING

Police Capture Alleged Knife Wielder On Preston Avenue

INJURED MAN IS IN HOSPITAL

Thomas Brooks, aged 29, negro, is in the New Castle hospital suffering from a severe but not serious knife wound in the back of the neck as a a result of an argument with Thomas Moore, aged 25, negro, at the home of Mary Mitchell, rear 709 Moravia street, about 8:30 o'clock last night. He spent a good night, and as his injuries are not serious, he will be able to leave that institution in a few days.

Moore, who fled after the cutting, was captured a short time later in the second floor of the house located at 303 1-2 Preston avenue by Officer M. J. Young, he having fled to that place following the cutting. He is being held at the police station pending an investigation and the outcome of the injury of Brooks.

According to the police, Moore claimed to be in charge of the Mitchell place during her absence, she being held at the police station for investigation of a chicken stealing incident, and when Brooks entered the place and proposed playing the piano, he resented the effort to usurp what he felt was his authority.

As Brooks was seated at the piano about to play, Moore attacked him with a small penknife, sinking it into the back of Brooks' neck, police say. The injury appearing quite serious, Moore fled, while Brooks got up and walked to his home, about two blocks south on Moravia street, where he collapsed as a result of the loss of blood.

Officers Young and Lockard and Fireman George Harper answered the call and on arrival at the home of Brooks, Lockard was left to take Brooks to the hospital, while Young and Harper went in pursuit of his assailant.

They saw a man answering the description of Moore hurrying down Hobart street toward the Shenango Tin Mill entrance, but were going at a considerable speed and had to go to McKinley street before being able to stop and turn in toward Preston avenue.

In the meantime Moore had gained his haven at 303 1-2 Preston avenue. The officers started to search the houses of the district, and had gone through two or three when Harper thought he saw Moore through a window at 303 1-2 Preston avenue. Leaving Harper to guard the rear door, Young went to the front door and went in and found Moore on the second floor.

On coming out of the house he showed where he had thrown the knife under the porch and it was recovered and is being held as evidence.

Phone Operator Proves Heroine In Damaging Fire

Telephone Operator Sticks To Her Post And Summons Aid From Nearby Towns

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 23.—By remaining at her post and summoning fire companies from nearby towns, Miss Sarah McKnight, a telephone operator at Fairbanks, probably saved the little mining town near here from destruction today, when fire destroyed a large frame building, a service station and damaged several nearby buildings with a loss estimated at $15,000.

Although the fire was threatening her office, Miss McKnight did not leave until she called fire companies from Uniontown and Brownsville.

The burned building was partly occupied by the O. C. Cluss Lumber Co. office. The fire was believed by authorities to be of incendiary origin. It started in an unoccupied section of the building.

Coulthard, local superintendent of the P-O Electric company demonstrated today that he is moving one step ahead of council by asking them if the city intends to resurface Cedar street next spring, adding that if so, the company in rebuilding their car line wants to put the rails at the correct height.

Solons admitted they had not given the matter thought—although an ordinance was adopted a year ago calling for repaving.

The improvement will cost the P-O $75,000.

He brought the matter up formally before council in regular meeting.

Councilman Tyler also said that he had received two bids for fixing the smokestack on city building, one of $350, from Joseph Hartman, the other from Stewart Sampson, $325.

The purchasing agent said he had instructed Sampson to start work and today colleagues approved his action.

Says Americans Should Be Grateful Government Not Running Utilities

Americans should never cease to be grateful that they are living in a country whose government is not operating the railroads, telephone and electric light services, according to Philip H. Gadsden, president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, who recently returned from Stockholm, where he represented the United States Chamber of Commerce at the meeting of the international chamber.

As vice president of the United Gas Improvement company, Philadelphia, Mr. Gadsden was naturally interested in studying the service rendered by public utilities on the continent and in England. When asked how these services compared with the services rendered in the United States, he said that the contrast between the rates and services of government owned utilities on the continent and in England with the rates and services rendered by privately-owned and operated companies in America was very striking and all in favor of the United States.

Mr. Gadsden also called attention to the superority of the electric light and power services in the United States over similar services abroad. "In London, for instance," he said, "practically every political sub-division has its own separate and independent electric system, and these systems are not standardized but differ from each other in voltage and other characteristics, the result being that if a householder moved from one political sub-division to another, the electrical appliances, such as vacuum cleaners, electric irons, and so forth, which he had purchased, could not be used in the new location." Mr. Gadsden stated that while he was in England the newspapers announced that these various independent electric systems were for the first time being interconnected for the protection of the service, but called attention to the fact that this standardization did not as yet extend to the cunsumers' premises.

"The citizens of the United States," Mr. Gadsden said, "should be very grateful to the founders of this republic that they set up a government designed to encourage individual initiative and private enterprise, and on the theory that government should be confined to seeing that every citizen has a fair and free field in which to work out his own future free from unnecessary governmental interference.

"After what I have seen abroad, it seems to me that it is the duty of every thinking American to be vigilant in resisting any and all efforts to extend the operations of government, whether federal or state, into the field of business."

Beer drinkers of today say the men who make near-beer must be farsighted.—Wilmington Delmarvia Star.

Mabel Walker Willebrandt May Be Drafted As Candidate

By CHAS. P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. — Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt (getting back to the subject of women in politics) is liable to be conscripted any election time, to run for almost any important office.

Her record as assistant attorney general's the wonder of Washington —not among women alone, either. If anything, hardened old campaigners of the uglier sex are even more respectful of it. The more they know about politics, the more they take off their hats to what Mrs. Willebrandt's done with that assistant attorney generalship.

Remember—it was handed to her as the worst liability under the federal government, and look at the asset she's turned it into!

Shall we venture a guess as to the processes of the master mind which chose Mrs. Willebrandt (it was in Attorney General Daugherty's day) as the justice department's specialist on prosecuting liquor law violations? Yes, let's. Well, then:

"This is bound to be a mighty unpopular job.

"It's going to be an impossible one, too—and smeared with all kinds of scandals.

"Besides, there are more women than men prohibitionists. So women will do the bulk of the howling about non-enforcement—unless they're hushed up somehow. Giving 'em a woman enforcement chief may hush 'em.

"The poker's red hot at both ends anyway. None of us men wants to hold it. What say we award it in recognition of the women voters? Carried?—unanimously. Here, ladies!"

Since then—what?

Prohibition reorganization has followed prohibition reorganization—except in Mrs. Willebrandt's office.

Dry Czar Haynes has gone. Dry Czar Andrews has quit, licked. Dry Czar Lowman already is in boiling water. We all know what befell Daugherty. Lesser lights too numerous to mention have been snuffed out. Assistant Attorney General Willebrandt carries on serenely.

From the president on down, hardly an official has escaped both wet and dry criticism. Nobody's found any fault with Mrs. Willebrandt.

Out of scandals a-plenty, none has smirched her administration.

To say that Mrs. Willebrandt has prosecuted liquor law violations as efficiently as anybody possibly could, is to fall far short of doing her justice—her efficiency has had twenty times the quality that any other dry official under the government has shown himself capable of.

If she's bucked an impossibility, at least she's made a marvelous, absolutely unequalled effort toward accomplishing it.

But the really amazing part of it is that she's done all this without creating any violent antagonisms. She's been energetic without fanaticism or rancor. At the same time that the dryest drys praise her, the wettest wets call her a square shooter.

Beyond question she's our outstanding assistant attorney general.

Marshall, Galloway, Letts, Parmenter, Luhring, Farnum—those are the others. Lots of people never heard of one of 'em. Everybody's heard of Mrs. Willebrandt.

Women's organizations hate to waste her indefinitely in an appointive position. Appointments are comparatively easy to get—they're always to be had if the demand for them is strong enough. Elections have to be won. The feminist political managers in Washington have Mrs. Willebrandt tagged as one of maybe half a dozen of their surest fire candidates in the country.

The way some of these Republican candidates have been acting of late, when convention time comes around there'll be nobody to attend.

Borah has recommended an increase in the tariff on onions. Washington theaters must be that way too.

GIRLHOOD TO MOTHERHOOD

Iowa Woman Found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Always Helpful

Vinton, Iowa.—"When I was seventeen years old I had to stay at home from school. I finally had to quit school, I was so weak. I suffered for about two years before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, then I picked up one of your books and read it. I began taking the medicine. Now I am a housekeeper with six children, and I have taken it before each one was born. I cannot tell you all the good I have received from it. When I am not as well as can be I take it. I have been doing this for over thirteen years and it always helps me. I read all of your little books I can get and I tell everyone I know what the Vegetable Compound does for me."—Mrs. Frank Sellers, 510 7th Avenue, Vinton, Iowa.

Many girls in the fourth generation are learning thru their own personal experiences the beneficial effects of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Mothers who took it recommend it to their daughters as a dependable medicine.

U. S. Exports Fall As Grain Demands Are Less Abroad

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Curtailed demand abroad for American grain and the reduced price of American cotton this year as compared with 1926 is cutting materially into the money value of American export trade.

At the same time lower prices for coffee, tea, raw silk and crude rubber are cutting down the valuation of imports to America from abroad.

The export loss, however, is greater that the import reduction, the next result being a tightening up of the trade balance as between exports and imports.

These conditions are disclosed in a compilation just completed by the Department of Commerce of export and import statistics for the month of July.

Exports for July 1927 were $22,000,000 under July 1926. Imports for the same month this year were $19,000,000 under the same month last imports by $25,000,000. In July 1926 exports exceeded imports by $29,000,000. Thus the trade balance was narrowed by $4,000,000 as compared with July last year.

Short Skirts, Rouge, Are Banned By School

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23—Abbreviated skirts, rolled stockings, lip-stick, rouge, high heels, and even ear-rings and powder puffs are banned at Cleveland Heights high school—by the students themselves.

Miss Helen K. Wallace, dean of the school, suggested at the opening of the school year that the girls put themselves definitely on record as favoring simple, business-like attire for the classroom. The Girls' Council readily agreed.

Cudahy's puritan
100% Leaf Lard
The Perfect Shortening

Cudahy's Puritan Lard is famous as "The Perfect Shortening" because it assures better baking and cooking.

To be perfect a shortening must have superior mixing and blending qualities. You have these in Puritan Lard—due to its fine grained texture. Puritan makes cakes and pastry that are light, fluffy and delicious; pie crust that is tender, crisp and flaky: the kind which you are proud and delighted to serve.

Puritan Lard is also unequalled for deep frying. The golden brown seal which it quickly forms around the food retains the original flavor; this prevents greasy, soggy food.

Puritan is 100% pure leaf lard, open kettle rendered, free from moisture and chilled in the package. Because of these finer qualities less of it is required.

Puritan Lard does not smoke at cooking temperature. As it does not absorb food flavors, it may be used again and again.

You'll be delighted with Puritan—At your dealers.

Joke On News Correspondent In Mexico Causes Eviction

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—One news correspondent was deported from Mexico recently whose case—lacking the qualities to make a very satisfactory "diplomatic incident"—hasn't been much advertised.

The deportee hadn't been there long.

Finding him ignorant of the country and its language—in short, rather green—older members of the correspondents' corps had amused themselves describing to him the dangers to which they professed foreign journalists in Mexico City were exposed.

About this time there occurred the sure-enough "de Courcy deportation"—no pipe dream but the real thing, which the state department acted like resenting for awhile, but finally didn't, because some of our deportation methods are a trifle informal, too.

* * *

Anyway, the chance for his acquaintances to assure our hero, still on the scene, that he was next on the list, was too good to be passed up. Only, he was warned, he was reserved for a yet worse fate—a firing squad and an adobe wall—but, for heaven's sake, he mustn't try to escape—that would give the butchers just the opportunity they were thirsting for.

Trembling in his boots, our correspondent did nevertheless manage to smuggle out an "S O S" which, in due coure, reached his boss in New York—the head of news interests of undoubtedly great weight and influence.

From this magnate there presently landed on the amazed President Calles' desk a 'steen-page telegram of blood-curdling threats, in the event that aught ill befell the writer's representative in the land of the Montezumas.

"There must be some mistake," came back the conciliatory answer, in Spanish, from the Mexican chief executive. "I have not, and never have had, a thought of harming a hair of your correspondent's head.

"I can see, however, that you are very uneasy concerning him.

"As I would not, for worlds, have you suffer unnecessary anxiety, I am sending him to the Rio Grande under a strong guard, with orders to deliver him safely on your side of the border."

* * *

A portrait of A. A. Adee, who served the state department, as second assistant secretary, for 38 years, until 1924, has just been hung in the department's diplomatic room.

Gazing at the well-remembered features, an attache told this story:

"One day Alvey had occasion to call a man on the telephone.

"'This is A. A. Adee speaking,' he said.

"'Beg pardon, I didn't catch that name,' replied the chap at the other end of the line.

"'A. A. Adee.' 'Please spell it.'

"'A.' 'Yes.' 'A.' 'Yes.' 'A.' 'Aw, go to heck, ya smart Eleck! Ya can't kid me!'"

* * *

Several years before his death, President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was a witness before a senate committee which was considering certain pending labor legislation, according to Bill Roberts of the federation's Washington staff, and the question of a fixed minimum wage came up.

"Now, look here, Mr. Gompers," said the chairman, "this thing of paying the same money to a tip-top workman and an indifferent workman never has appealed to my sense of justice. How do you defend it?"

"Don't all you senators get the same pay?" asked Gompers.

"Yes, we do," said the chairman, "but what of it?"

"Well, do you mean to tell me," demanded the old labor leader, "that you're all worth the same?"

Oyster Men To Sue As Sewer Systems Ruins Food Supply

(International News Service)

NORWALK, Conn., Sept. 23—If city sewage continues to put a crimp in the oyster industry here the city must reimburse the oystermen for their losses. This proposition is being put to the state courts by Norwalk men who have long been in the oyster industry. Suits totalling $350,000 have been filed by two local oyster concerns against the city of Norwalk as the result of the state board of health banning the use of oysters taken in Norwalk harbor.

The state finds that the waters of the harbor are in such a condition that the people's health would be menaced if oysters taken from the harbor were sold. Since such a ban seriously affects local oystermen, they want to be reimbursed and so are asking the courts to force the city to settle the bill.

Norwalk oysters once were famous. Along the harbor shores piles of oyster shells started in September grew to mountains by April and in the "R-less months" were dumped back into the harbor so that future oysters might be obtained. The industry kept thousands busy dredging the oysters carrying them to land, opening them and transhipping them by rail to folks far removed from salt water who yearned for an oyster feast.

To remove the sewage from the harbor and to provide some other means of disposal would cost a pretty penny the city fathers find. But the oystermen say the change must be made. Besides asking damages they ask an injunction to prevent future pollution.

Think Czar's Son Is Still Alive; Secluded In Poland

(International News Service)

LONDON, Sept. 23—The heir to the Russian throne son of the former Czar and who now would be the rightful Emperor, is believed to be alive.

Czarevitch Alexis as the former prince and heir apparent was known was supposedly killed during the massacre of the Russian royal family when Russia was in the grip of revolution. Reports reaching London however give evidence of the discovery and mysterious story of a 22 year-old-man living in the Polish town of Bygoszcz. Were the Carevitch alive his age would be the same.

This youth calls himself Eugen Nikolaevitch Ivanoff and says that he fled to Poland from his native country Russia nine years ago in the company of a Cossack.

He denies that he is the Russian heir, but every Sunday for the past five years, has adorned himself in the uniform of a high officer in the Russion nobility. Russian monarchists who have seen him in Poland declare that the likeness between him and the "dead" Alexis is remarkable. Ivanoff also suffers from the same mysterious malady as did the boy Czarevitch—haemophilia.

At present this young man lives by embroidery work at which he is an expert as was the boy heir.

The Polish Catholic clergy have declared themselves supporters of Ivanoff and it is rumored that he is bidding his time remaining in seclusion until a time when he will attempt to overthrow the Soviet Republic and regaining his throne bring back the reign of monarchy to Russia.

LET'S BE GRATEFUL

Always be glad it's no worse. When you complain because you have a tooth pulled or have to take on some other minor operation think of 15-year-old Jimmy McLean of Boston. He has had 100 serious operations and will have to have one about every two months. He swallowed caustic soda, thinking it was water. It closed up his throat. He takes his food through a tube. Every little while he has to be operated on and the tube adjusted. He also underwent a half dozen operations as the result of infantile paralysis.

Be glad for what you've got—or haven't.

* * *

MONEY WELL SPENT

About 30 million pupils are in public schools this year. Two billion dollars will be spent on them from public funds. That is as it should be. We ought to be glad to know that this is more than the cost of the army and navy put together. Joseph Choate was right, years ago, when he said that education is the leading American industry. And it ought to be bigger than it is.

* * *

BUY NOW

If you are thinking of buying a home or building one, don't delay in the hope that there will be a more economical time by and by. The population of this country is going up fast. The demand for homes increases. Labor is no more plentiful than it was and will be less so. Wages are up to stay. Do it now.

* * *

DOUBLE DUTY FOR PLANTS

Not enough people are interested in what can be done with plants and vegetables. Burbank led the way, but there have been few to follow. In New Jersey experiments have produced blueberries seven-eighths of an inch in diamter. Too bad more people are not experimenting in their gardens instead of on the golf course. Why not a strawberry as big as a pineapple?

* * *

NEW AND OLD

Young folks mustn't get the idea that everything today is bigger than it used to be. In 1863 a balloon was built that had a bag with a capacity of 450,000 cubic feet. It would lift 40 passengers. It is probably the largest balloon ever built. New things are not only not always bigger—they are not always better.

* * *

TIME FOR INVENTORS

There is ripe opportunity for inventors. The paper industry consumes more than a billion acres of forest every year. The world will reward the man who gives it a good substitute for pulp wood in the making of print paper. In 1840 some people thought all the inventions had been made. It was even suggested by one enthusiast that the patent office be abolished. The age of invention is just well under way. There is much to come.

Would Take Place Of Doomed Man

BENTON, Ill., Sept. 23.—Charlie Birger, former gang lord of Southern Illinois, under death sentence for the murder of Mayor Joe Adams of West City, received an offer from a Jacksonville, Ill., man who said he would substitute for Birger on the gallows, October 15.

"I only wish I could step in and take that rope in your place, just to get out of my misery," the letter said. Birger merely laughed and said, "I'm not looking for anyone to take my place, although I appreciate the offer."

MORE CHURCHES TO TAKE QUOTA

List Of Delegates For State Convention Is Rapidly Being Filled

Other Sabbath Schools that have sent in checks for their full quotas of delegates for the big Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association convention which is to be held in New Castle October 12, 13, 14, are the Emmanuel Baptist, the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist, the Hopewell Presbyterian, the Chewton Christian and the Pulaski M. E. The Sabbath schools are responding in a very gratifying manner and Sunday they will all be visited in the interest of having every school send its full quota of delegates. The Sabbath schools whenever possible are urged to send the teaching staff, pastor and superintendent, and singers in the chorus choir, paying their registration fees from the treasury or by a special collection for this purpose. It may be twenty years before Sabbath schools will have the opportunity to make such a splendid investment in the lives of their own members and this investment will yield great returns in better, bigger and brighter Sabbath schools.

Sabbath school superintendents are urged to have the information the speakers will request ready, for this information must be turned over to W. L. Pander, chairman of the local registration committee. Especially important is to hand to the speaker the names of all of the singers in the chorus because the Director of Music, Mr. Owens, must have this information. He has called his rehearsal for Sunday afternoon, October 2nd at 3 p. m., Eastern Standard time at the Cathedral, and the full quota of singers should be present from all of the city and county schools.

All of the convention committees are functioning and everything is going along nicely, is the word that comes from the General Chairman, Robt. M. Strickler, Jr. All of the committees are being filled up and within the next week 400 committee badges with "Ask Me," badge, and ribbon designating the committee, will be ordered. In the history of New Castle it is very doubtful if there was ever an aggregation of committees that equals this in size, for any religious event.

D. A. R. Delegates Select Allentown Convention City

(International News Service)

BEDFORD, Pa., Sept. 23.—With Allentown selected as the next meeting place, members of the Daughters of the American Revolution devoted their time today to a short business session here.

A nominating committee was scheduled to be chosen to select candidates for the state offices, to be voted upon at the next meeting.

The delegates attending the conference here spent the major portion of their time yesterday visiting points of interest near here as the guests of th Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis club.

BOY SCOUTS TO CONDUCT COUNT

Davies Explanation Prevents Burns, Tyler Blocking Request

Councilman William T. Burns is opposed to any firm getting a city contract then asking the city council furnish free boy labor.

At least he indicated this when he took issue today with a motion presented by Councilman D. O. Davies relative to the traffic survey to be conducted by Morris Knowels company.

Davies motion, first read, made it appear that the company desired the city to aks the Boy Scouts to conduct a count on local streets during the survey.

"The firm is getting a good fee. I am opposed to them having boys do the work free. If they pay that is different," said Burns. The company is to receive $2,500.

"You are right," replied Councilman Tyler, adding: "We are paying an ample fee and we did not agree to furnish labor."

At this juncture Davies explained the motion saying the firm had asked the Boy Scouts to do the checking and they said they would if the request came from the city.

Burns and Tyler relented and the motion was carried.

Davies explained that bids were placed on the assumption that local assistance would be given.

Burns attitude proved consistent as several times he has advocated the city doing certain work, hiring and paying employes from the ranks of the unemployed.

TUNNEY RETAINS HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Dempsey Fails To Take Advantage Of Chance In Seventh

Ex-Champion Had Title Within Grasp As Tunney Lay Helpless On Floor

Tunney Stages Comeback In Late Rounds That Carried Him To Decision

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Jack Dempsey! This writer, whose poor, weak words are humble and strangely contrite this morning, do hereby salute you. You were a man, a great man, last night as you failed to win back your heavyweight championship, and it took a younger and, for the mere moment at least, a better man to beat you. Five years ago—but why exhume the past and apply it to the present?

The last bout for the heavyweight championship of the world was not fought five years ago. It was fought last night and the better man, judged on last night's standards, the better man won.

Gene Tunney! Man that you are of few words but big ones, I give you all I have in the way of sincere and honest admiration. You were on the floor for a count that reached the hat size of Goliath, nine and seven-eighths or something. But you got up and you won and the man who can do that is the man who may beset me forever more with words that neither he nor I may be able to understand.

Dempsey had his moment. It came in the seventh round when he had Tunney within a split second of being counted right out. Some freely declared today that the moment was too long; that Tunney was on the floor too long; that, in reality, Tunney was out and Dempsey was in, which may be taken as a fair example of what manner of man this Dempsey is.

Argue On Count

He had them arguing on the question of fair or foul punch in the Sharkey fight two months ago. Today, he had them asking whether Referee Dave Barry counted nine or nineteen in the seventh round over Tunney. It did seem the part of a long nine.

However, two near-chumps came on in an anti-climax after the big fight and I noted that when one of them scored a knockdown and failed to retire to a corner, the count was first begun, then abandoned and then resumed at the count of one after he had abided by the rules. Dempsey was over-long in departing from his position over Tunney's prostrate form in that seventh round.

But what a man he was, whether he tarried or not. Even Tunney must have thought of that, if he thought of anything on the floor with his eyes blank and dull. For Dempsey was a man last night whose real greatness, in a physical way, was behind him but whose moral stamina simply would not say die.

For all I know, since I have consulted no one and do not wish to do so, the assembled intelligentsia may be muttering in its beard over that count that Barry gave Tunney. They even may be arguing as to who actually won and lost the fight. They shouldn't.

I am conscious of the fact that a lot of men around this ringside are soliciting opinions as to whether the count was right or wrong. And there you have the real thing all over again—fair or foul; long or no count, as we poor hustlers would say. As I see it, the fact of the matter is that Dempsey had his moment and wouldn't take it.

Dempsey Lacks Punch

Old men get that way. It is called ultra-conservation and it means that what you did in your rash youth, you won't do in your old age. Imagine the young, impetuous Dempsey of 1919 having a helpless man before him and refusing to do anything about it for a full minute.

What I wish to assert is that Dempsey lost the fight and the honor of being the only ex-champion of the heavyweights to regain the title in that seventh round. When Tunney got up, it seemed that Dempsey couldn't go wrong. But he did.

Age, the great leveler, the acme of conservatism, had made an ordinary fighter of Dempsey in the crisis of his competitive life.

"Just how long was that count over Tunney, twelve or fourteen seconds?" asked a Dempsey man after the fight. It wouldn't make the slightest difference to me if it was a million. The old Dempsey rush would have annihilated Tunney after he did get up. But Dempsey lacked the instinct or, great man that he otherwise was, he pulled a plain, ordinary, unmitigated bone. Anyhow, he made not the merest attempt to carry a punch-drunk man by storm and even went so far as to beckon him to come near, when the man through sheer weakness could go nowhere but back.

And so this great moment passed and soon Tunney was himself again, the champion who had carried the early rounds and had Dempsey all but out in the fourth. Indeed, only a single round after his distress in the seventh, he had Dempsey on the floor for a count of one with a left hook to the jaw and for the remainder of the fight cut him up about the eyes almost as badly as he did in the first fight at Philadelphia.

Tunney Is Clever

Yes, except for that brief, but, seemingly, all too lengthy interval in the seventh, Tunney always was the winner and great though Dempsey was, he was the loser because, by his hesitancy, he proved that he was not the killer of old.

Age does that to the Jesse Jameses of this life and it did it again to Jack Dempsey in the seventh round last night. But whereas an aged Jesse might have missed his man at twenty paces, the Dempsey of last night plugged his prey but couldn't keep him plugged. And incidentally, he took quite a plugging himself which combination of circumstances has forced me this day to bare my bald pate in reverence to the gent who so richly deserves it.

We know why so many observers thought Dempsey unbeatable before 1923.

It was a great fight, well worth the record crowd of 150,000 that saw it; well worth the record gate of $2,500,000 and well worth a $40 ringside seat, provided anything is worth forty dollars and ringside doesn't mean outside or nearly so.

Tunney is Game.

Yes, a great fight. But it takes two men to make any fight and Gene Tunney was the other. He proved that when he got up after that left and right to the jaw in the seventh. Further than that, no one except himself knows whether he could have arisen earlier, had he wished. He merely stood or perhaps I should say, he lay within his rights in waiting until he heard the referee say "nine".

Any brief for the referee, however, may be held elsewhere. He ignored at least ten of Dempsey's punches that were at or near the belt line, and possibly four of Tunney's and in the eighth round he started to outcount his timekeeper over the fallen Dempsey.

Still, I maintain that the fight as such, was an epic. For three rounds, it was nothing. Both men were feeling the other out, an unusual procedure for Dempsey, and perforce nothing happened. But late in the fourth, Tunney crossed a series of rights to Dempsey's jowl and Jack was rubber legged and drooling from the mouth, absolutely out, when the bell saved him.

But the man is hardly human, even at his advanced age, and so he was able to stall his way through the fifth round and, then revivified anew, to win the sixth in a series of wild exchanges. Then the seventh!

The drama developed suddenly in the first minute of play, the synopsis being a left hook to Tunney's jaw, dropping him in a sitting position on the second strand of the ropes. The climax was the following right, which deposited him on the floor. The denouement was Dempsey's failure to do anything.

The rest was tragic. Having run away from his impending doom Tunney finally was able again to make a stand in the eighth and in the midst of it he nailed Dempsey with a left uppercut for a knockdown. That was the turning point.

From that moment, Tunney won every exchange and at the end was trying desperately for a knockout that never came.

And 150,000 persons were glad that it didn't. For the gamester makes all men his friends.

'Form' Beats 'Hunch'

Here's What News Sports Editor Said Before Fight

A poll taken before the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney fight yesterday showed 28 sporting editors picking Tunney on "form" to win and 26 others selecting Dempsey on "hunch." The boys who rode along with "form" won. Eddie Fritz of The News played "hunch" and lost and has no alibi but it may be interesting to repeat what Fritz said in his account in yesterday's News. Here are a few excerpts taken from his story:

"Any man who can hit like Jack always has a chance and while tradition says Gene Tunney should retain his championship, I'm playing a hunch and pick Dempsey to win." (Dempsey lost.)

"Dempsey is cunning. Tunney is a thinker. Dempsey will take advantage of every break. Tunney will adopt a plan before the fight and adhere to it throughout." (He followed his plan.)

Fritz went on to say: "Should Tunney take a slight lead at the start and find he can outbox Dempsey, he will play safe, ride the bicycle and coast through the bout without taking any chanses with his title. (Tunney got the lead.)

"If Tunney can get that desired lead and finds he can tie up Dempsey at close quarters he will not stand up and slug and should be returned the winner on points. (While Dempsey was strong Gene fought a cajey fight and took no undue chances.)

"Tunney should win by every known tradition of the ring. They never come back, the old saying says, but somehow or another, I'm playing a hunch that Dempsey will smash tradition tonight." (Tradition still stands.)

TUNNEY 189 1-2 DEMPSEY 192 1-2

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Champion Gene Tunney weighed 189½ pounds Thursday afternoon and Jack Dempsey, the challenger, 192½, when they weighed in officially in the gymnasium of the Illinois Athletic club.

They were weighed separately, Dempsey first, at 1:30, and Tunney at 2:30 p. m. It was the first time that the principals in a World's heavyweight championship battle had not tipped the scales in each other's presence. Dempsey had left the building amid cheers, long before Tunney entered.

Dempsey Beaten And Heart-Broken May Put Gloves On Shelf

Ex-Champion Is Dejected Figure Following Sensational Battle With Tunney

Dempsey Claims That Tunney Received Generous Count In Seventh Round

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Jack Dempsey may hang up the gloves.

Broken hearted and beaten, but not conquered, the most colorful character of the prize ring today sought solace for his defeat by Gene Tunney in the companionship of his loyal and beautiful young wife, Estelle Taylor, the screen star, and together they discussed his future.

"I said before the fight if Jack lost he would quit the ring, and I think he will," said Mrs. Dempsey this morning, after a long talk with her husband.

Jack himself wasn't so sure.

"I'm going back to California immediately but beyond that my plans are up in the air," said the ex-champion who so dramatically failed last night to recover his crown.

Enters Seclusion.

Dempsey was in seclusion to all except a few friends at his wife's apartments in the Edgewater Beach hotel. There it was he found his slim, dark-eyed wife waiting for him when he came home from Soldiers' Field shortly after midnight to tell her how he came within a fraction of a second of doing what he promised her he would do—"bring home the bacon"—but failed.

It was a grim, downcast Dempsey that came back to Estelle. He entered the apartment, eyes downcast, his bruised and cut face showing the effects of battle.

Jack and Estelle put their arms around each other. She was bravely trying to keep back the tears.

"I'm a good loser," Dempsey finally remarked, endeavoring to smile.

Then she said: "I'm a good loser."

Then they both said: "We're both good losers."

"You are still the champion to me," said Estelle.

After that they were happier. Estelle sent for Dr. John Leonard, Dempsey's personal physician, and the returning warrior's wounds were treated.

Tunney Uninjuried.

With the other warrior, Tunney, it was different. There was no wife to share bad news when he returned to the Hotel Sherman. No seclusion. No doctor to treat him. Instead, he reaped the fruits of victory, accepting the enthusiastic congratulations of an army of friends. Then a bath, a rubdown and then a victory banquet and reception. He planned to leave on the Twentieth Century for New York today.

Tunney discussed his victory modestly, generously giving Dempsey credit for the great fight he put up.

"I was not hurt when I took the count of nine in the seventh round and thought it was just as well to take my time in rising" said the champion.

Tunney smiled deprecatingly when told of the cry that has arisen from the Dempsey camp that Jack was robbed by a slow count in the seventh.

Dempsey, in discussing the dramatic seventh round after the battle, emphasized that he did not want to offer any alibi for his defeat but added:—

May File Protest.

"I believe I really knocked Tunney out in that round. Surely he got a generous count. It gave him enough extra time to clear his head and get on his bicycle. I am told that my manager's stop watch ticked off fourteen seconds while Tunney was on the floor."

Dempsey's seventh round knockdown of Tunney, however, was the subject of animated discussion everywhere today, and Dempsey's manager, Leo P. Flynn, stated to International News Service that he was going before the Illinois boxing commission as soon as possible and file a formal protest.

"A dozen stop watches showed Tunney down for 14 seconds," said Flynn. "Tunney is champion by grace of collosal inefficiency. When Jack came to his corner after the round, Jack said to me: 'I can't whip both Tunney and the referee.'"

George Lytton, one of the two judges who awarded the decision to Tunney, declared today that if Dempsey had gone to a neutral corner three seconds sooner after flooring his opponent he would have won the fight.

Jack Beat Himself.

"He beat himself by not getting back to neutral territory soon enough

NEW CASTLE HIGH TO PLAY FRANKLIN

Venango Countians Will Have Strong Lineup Is Report

New Castle High Gridders Ready For Second Grid Contest Of Year; Varsity Lineup Will Be Practically Same As Started Grove City Game; Paul Reider Out With Injured Ankle, Will Be Replaced By Sillman; Coach Treadwell Says Team Will Give Red And Black Hard Fight; Locals Hope to Annex Second Victory Of Year; Game Is Called For 3:30 O'clock, Daylight Saving Time.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

ANOTHER week of training behind them finds the New Castle High school football team in the "peak of condition" for the second battle of the year, which takes place at the Ben Franklin High stadium Saturday afternoon. The combatants will be New Castle and Franklin. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock, daylight saving time.

It will mark the second appearance of a Franklin High team here in the history of football at the local institution. The initial showing of a Venango county team here several years ago ended in defeat for the up-state boys. Coach Eddie Treadwell contends that his team this year will give the powerful New Castle squad plenty of opposition.

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh is confident that the locals will come through tomorrow afternoon with another victory. The Grove City game last week served as a criterion and gave some idea of just what the New Castle team contains this season.

Stiff practice sessions have been in order this week, and the boys are ready and waiting for the second struggle. While Franklin is not a member of the W. P. I. A. L., the locals hope to keep their record clean this year.

Reider May Not Play

The New Castle High line-up for the Franklin game tomorrow will be practically the same as that used in the inaugural of the season, with the possible exception of Paul Reider, the young signal barker, who suffered a dislocated ankle in the Grove City game. Reider's absence will remove a lot of speed from the backfield, as the youngster is regarded as one of the real speed merchants on the squad.

With Reider on the "shelf" for the time being at least, the quarterback job will fall upon the shoulders of Arthur Sillman. The fair-haired youth handled the signal barker's post in first-class manner last year and also in the opening game after Reider was forced out. New Castle High is mighty fortunate in having a man of Sillman's calibre on hand in case of emergency. He is a fairly good ball carrier and has a brainy head.

Mooney and Sherer, the two other cripples from last Saturday, have rounded into shape and are more than likely slated for first team posts on tomorrow afternoon. Mooney injured his knee and Sherer suffered a cut over his right eye.

The Red and Black warriors have undergone some mighty stiff rehearsals this week, but the boys have come through fine and there has been no material changes in the line-up. Coach Bridenbaugh is just a little concerned over the right end post, and while he may start Craft, there is every possibility that Beres will see some action before the game is very old. There is a hard fight at the present time between Craft, Beres and Burns for the regular wing post. Craft a tall, rangy player, has shown up mighty well this year and was given the call last Saturday. Beres also shows promise and will get plenty of workout this year. Burns is a last year man and is strong on the defense.

Franklin Team Light

Captain "Tippy" Richards, Turk and Harper have been ripping off nice gains in practice this week and seem to be in condition for another session of ball-toting tomorrow. Coach Bridenbaugh is well pleased with his backfield material this year. New Castle High is well fortified with backfield material, with Sage, Weaver, Sherer and Sillman ready for action when needed.

It will be the initial showing of the year for the Franklin team and the boys from Venango county are desirous of displaying their wares before the mammoth crowd at the Franklin stadium. Several of the Franklin team, accompanied by Coach Treadwell, attended the New Castle-Grove City game here last Saturday.

Coach Treadwell is just a little undecided on his starting line-up for the game here tomorrow, and either Miller McClintock or McMasters will do the signal barking, and regardless of which one is chosen, the other will be found at a halfback post. The Franklin team is light and fast, the heaviest man on the squad tipping the scales but 170 pounds. New Castle High will outweigh the visitors about 10 pounds to the man.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner today announced the following officials will handle the game tomorrow: referee, "Ted" Fry, Pitt; umpire, Forbes, Geneva, and head linesman, Leslie Harr, Geneva.

Following are the probable line-ups for the game:

| New Castle High | | Franklin High |
|---|---|---|
| Ostrosky | L.E. | Yeager |
| Cuba | L.T. | Spellman |
| DiCarbo | L.G. | Brown |
| Thomas | C | Benton |
| Mooney | R.G. | Cole |
| Alexander | R.T. | Lawson |
| Craft or Beres | R.E. | Valeski |
| Reider or Sillman | Q.B. | McMasters or McClintock |
| Richards | L.H. | Foster |
| Turk | R.H. | McClintock or McMasters |
| Harper | F.B. | Abel |

Claim Referee Favored Tunney In Slow Count

Seventh Round Knockdown Is Questioned By Expert Writers At Ringside

By GEORGE BARRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—Gene Tunney did more last night than merely to make a successful defense of his title, for he gained the distinction of being the only man that ever went down before the onslaught of Jack Dempsey and then arose to go on to victory.

Without detracting from the glory of Tunney's victory, his brainy battle and his gameness, it still must be said that he remains today as king in the fistic realms because of two things (1) a long, long count and (2) the inexplicable failure of Dempsey to rip and tear into him with finishing punches when, groggy and bewildered, he arose in a daze from the seventh round knockdown.

The claim of the Dempsey faction rattles to the high heavens today—and perhaps will forever continue to echo—over the count that Dave Barry, the referee, gave in Tunney's behalf.

Those who held stop watches say that Tunney was down for 14 seconds others thought it 17 seconds. But the fact is rather indisputable that he was down more than ten seconds.

Dempsey drove a terrific left to Tunney's chin soon after the seventh started. Tunney started to crumple and Dempsey unleashed a right to the chin, then another crushing left and Tunney went down to the floor within a few feet of Dempsey's corner.

And then Dempsey, instead of leaping into a neutral corner, stepped into his own.

The count started when Tunney went down. The referee happened to notice that Dempsey, in the confusion of things, had gone to his own corner. So he stopped the count and waived Dempsey to a neutral corner. No count was made while Dempsey was stepping across. When the referee was satisfied that Dempsey was well parked in that neutral corner, he started the count again—and started it with "One."

Brain Clears

Tunney climbed up at "nine"—and then began back pedaling around the ring, Dempsey, the killer, pressed him closely but one second followed another, and seconds merged finally into a minute and still Dempsey, who might have finished Tunney with a cyclonic rush, kept stalking around, waiting for one good shot. While he waited, Tunney continued his bicycle riding and, eventually his brain cleared and his legs steadied.

When Dempsey finally rushed in, perhaps a minute, perhaps longer, after Tunney had arisen from the floor, the golden, glorious opportunity for him to regain the much treasured crown, with its million dollar setting, was gone.

For the round was near its end and what little close punching Dempsey landed availed nothing.

There seems to be no explanation for Dempsey's failure to rush Tunney after he climbed to his feet, except one of confidence that if he did not nail Tunney in that seventh he certainly could do it in the eighth. He must have felt that he had Tunney mortally wounded and if he did not get him then he surely would succeed in the 8th 9th or 10th.

DEMPSEY, BEATEN AND HEARTBROKEN, MAY PUT GLOVES ON SHELF

so that the count could be started," said Lytton.

"Dempsey himself insisted on the rule that the man who scored the knockdown should move to a neutral corner before the count was begun. That has been Dempsey's contention ever since the Firpo fight."

The knockdown of Tunney was the first the champion had experienced in his career. Two left hooks to the jaw and a right cross to the jaw sent Tunney to the floor near Dempsey's corner and close to the ropes. Dempsey stood over the prostrate foe, ready to renew his attack and prove that "they can come back" when Referee Barry motioned Dempsey to neutral territory. This consumed several seconds and then the count began. Tunney, his eyes glassy, was in a half-sitting, half-kneeling position on the floor. Pain was written all over his countenance.

The Dempsey blows certainly contained dynamite. At the count of nine Tunney just barely managed to get to his rubbery legs. Survived the round by circling the ring half a dozen times with Dempsey pursuing him and subsequently came back strong to win the ten round decision.

Samuels Never Tires Of Managerial Duties

Youthful Manager Responsible For Upbuilding Of Local Athletics

Has Figured Prominently In Promoting Sports Here; Deserves Commendation

One chap in New Castle, Pa., who has given hour after hour of valuable service in the upbuilding of local athletics and who has come in for little more than mention for his great work is Alec Samuels, youthful manager, who resides at 1026 South Mill street.

Samuels has been connected with every athletic organization of prominence in this city. He works day and night in the interests of sports, yet he seldom receives the great credit that is due him—for it is really he that pushes over the object in view—more so than the players behind him.

Interested In All.

Of the organizations that he has taken active interest in are the New Castle high school Alumni Association, the former Castle Five basketball team, reputed amateur champions of Western Pennsylvania, Mahoning A. A. baseball club of the Lawrence County Baseball League in 1926; New Castle O. & P. League team of 1927; Lawrence County League; Twilight League, Aquatic Club, Flying Squadron; Industrial Basketball League; Mahoning Valley Officials Association and others.

When anything is to be arranged for any sport activity, banquet, meeting, celebration or what not, Samuels generally gets the call and is placed at the head of the committee—it being a known fact that the work will be accomplished in first class order. Alec is never too busy regardless of what task he is assigned to do—and without a whimper goes about his work—works diligently—and it is a certainty that the work is done to the satisfaction of all.

Samuels has been connected with all these organizations, and the writer feels that his splendid work in this community along athletic lines should be known by all. Alec is to be commended for his fine work here.

Penn State Grid Season Will Open

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 23.—After turning over the field to the Lebanon Valley team, which will be the opponent for the first game of the season here tomorrow afternoon, the Penn State grid squad will run through the final workout of the preseason training campaign.

Any thoughts that the players might have held as to enjoying a rest before the opener were dispelled this morning when Coach Hugo Bezdek ordered the regular afternoon practice.

Although the lineup which will face the Dutchmen is not definitely known, it is thought that Bez will use the backfield in which Johnnie Roepke has been starring. This consists of Roepke, Miller, Hamas, and Pincura. Another backfield, however, in which are Lungren Ridgway, Harrington, and the mainstay of last year's Freshman line, Craig, may see action before the final whistle blows.

Joe Krall, tackle, is definitely out of tomorrow's game because of an injury sustained in this week's practice. Several other of the linemen are bothered with minor injuries, and may not play tomorrow.

Officials for tomorrow's game will be E. C. Taggert of Rochester, N. Y., referee; F. J. Grolius of Dartmouth, umpire; R. D. Evans of Ursinus, head linesman; and M. T. Thompson of Georgetown, field judge.

Ray Baer, former Penn State tackle, and who has been helping coach the second string line in the pre-season practice, has left the Nittany camp for Chicago, where he is enrolled in medical school.

INJURED MEN AT ALLEGHENY BACK ON SQUAD

MEADVILLE, Pa., Sept. 23.—Four men: Moon, halfback; C. Davis, tackle; N. Kinnunen, tackle, and C. Behrhorsat, halfback, all of whom were off from practice for several days because of injuries, reported for practice in uniform today and ran through signals with the varsity team. Louie Lusk was not in uniform, but followed the varsity team, observing the plays as they were executed by the other candidates.

After about a half hour of kicking and passing practice the varsity team was sent through an hour of signal drill. Near the close of the practice Coach Merritt lined up an eleven composed mostly of men who will be counted upon to act in substitute roles and sent them against the reserve team. During the scrimmage a new star was uncovered in Warner White, halfback candidate from Dunkirk, N. Y., high school. White gave an exhibition of sidestepping and open field running that was unusually spectacular. The work of Herb Eighmy in carrying the ball was also fine.

Kinnunen ran signals with the varsity team at tackle during part of the practice, and the manner in which he took hold of his new job indicates that he will be very valuable to Coach Merritt in his new assignment. Coach Merritt has now three sets of backs at his command, all of whom are making a strong bid for regular positions on the team. He also is fast welding together two formidable looking lines and it is believed that by the opening of the season here with St. Bonaventure on October 1 he will be able to present a varsity that will be well fortified in every department.

Coach McLaughry Has Hopes For Another Successful Season

Plenty Of Good Material Reports For Brown's Football Team

Several Of Stars From Last Year's Unbeaten Team Will Be Back In Harness

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 23.—Brown University football coaches are reaping a harvest this year in football material which followed in the wake of the widespread reputation gained by the famous "Iron-men" team of 1926.

Spurred on by the exploits of the team of last year, candidates for the varsity are reporting in large numbers this year. An aggregation of about fifty men, the largest number ever to report for early season training at Brown, will report to Coach McLaughry for the initial workout at Quonset Point.

The first big game on the Brown schedule is that with the University of Pennsylvania, on October 8, at Philadelphia. Prior to that, games will be played with Rhode Island State College and Albright College.

Only three members of the "Iron-men" teams were lost through graduation which gives Coach McLaughry the nucelus for a good team again this year. Coach McLaughry has had opportunity in the past year to get his system thoroughly installed at Brown and it is expected that this year he will have even better results than were obtained in 1926 when his team went through the season without a defeat.

Among the star players of the 1926 team who will report to Coach McLaughry this fall are Capt. Roy Randall, quarterback, and Al Cornsweet, fullback, Harry Cornsweet, guard, Winston Dodge, guard, Hyman Heller, San Larkin and Jim Stewart, ends, Walter Trefethen, fullback, Charlie Considine, center, Louis Farber, guard, Thurston Towle, end, Eddie Lawrence, halfback and Paul Hodge, tackle.

SLIPPERY ROCK TO OPEN SEASON AT MOUNT UNION

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 23.—Mount Union College will open its 1927 grid schedule at Alliance, Saturday, with the strong Slippery Rock Normal team, Slippery Rock, Pa.

In preparing for the game Saturday Head Coach John Thorpe is putting his squad through hard scrimmages this week. He is placing special emphasis on the defense against the pass as the Slippery Rock team will be an experienced one and one that will make good use of the new pass rule.

The Mount varsity this year will be made up largely of green and inexperienced material. Only three men who have played during their sophomore and junior years are eligible, namely; Capt. Walters, Deerfield; James McBride, Canton; and Arthur Yengling, Salem.

Among those lettermen who have been lost from last year's squad are both ends. To fill their positions Assistant Coach "Puck" Carson is grooming three sophomores, Kenneth Sweet, Akron; Bob Ball, East Palestine; and Dan Myers, Shanesville, and Philip Koppel, Newton Falls, a senior.

The Boston Red Sox in 1928 will be a different team, says Manager Bill Carrigan. But its an even shot that it will play the same kind of ball.

New Wilmington High Opens Season With Ellwood On Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 23. — Tomorrow marks the opening of the grid season of New Wilmington high school when they journey to Ellwood City to meet the crack Ellwood eleven. Though the college town high has always put out a surprisingly good outfit, the squad this year has been hit by bad luck and it is not expected that Coach Wiggins will have a complete first string lineup in tomorrow's game. Neal will probably call signals for the Blue and Gold team.

With Captain Davis ineligible it is thought that C. Rudolph will fill out that end position. The rest of the lineup will place: Rose at certer, McCrumb and D. Rudolph at guard, McConnell and Maxwell at tackle, Hartwell at right end Eagleson at quarterback, Neal and Cheers at halfback, and Herriott at fullback.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

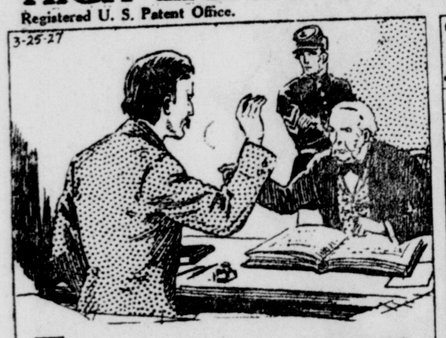
The Reign of the "Carpet-bagger"

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.



IN 1866, ANY CANDIDATE FOR OFFICE IN THE SOUTH WAS OBLIGED TO TAKE THE "IRONCLAD OATH" THAT HE HAD TAKEN NO PART IN SECESSION. AS NEARLY ALL SOUTHERNERS HAD BEEN ENGAGED IN THE WAR, THIS REQUIREMENT KEPT THE BEST MEN OF THE SOUTH FROM HOLDING PUBLIC OFFICE, AND VIRTUALLY PLACED THE STATE GOVERNMENTS IN THE HANDS OF THE FREEDMEN.

SCENTING IN THIS SITUATION AN OPPORTUNITY FOR PERSONAL GAIN, MANY NORTHERN ADVENTURERS CAME TO SETTLE IN THE SOUTH. THESE MEN WERE COMMONLY CALLED "CARPET-BAGGERS" BECAUSE THEY WERE SAID TO HAVE BROUGHT ALL THEIR PROPERTY IN THE CHEAP CARPET VALISES THEY CARRIED. AIDED BY A CLASS OF SOUTHERN MEN WHO WERE CALLED "SCALAWAGS", THE "CARPET-BAGGERS" TEMPTED THE NEGROES AWAY FROM WORK INTO POLITICS.

"CARPET-BAG" STATE GOVERNMENTS WERE SET UP, SUPPORTED BY VOTES OF THE FREEDMEN, WHO CAUGHT AT THE BAIT OF "FORTY ACRES AND A MULE." THESE CORRUPT GOVERNMENTS FREELY SPENT STATE FUNDS FOR ALL SORTS OF ABSURD EXTRAVAGANCIES AND ROLLED UP VAST DEBTS.

THEY LOOKED FOR PROTECTION TO THE SMALL FEDERAL FORCE WHICH HAD BEEN LEFT IN THE SOUTH TO PRESERVE ORDER. WITHIN TWO YEARS, ALL OF THE SOUTHERN STATES, EXCEPT VIRGINIA, MISSISSIPPI AND TEXAS, HAD ACCEPTED THE CONDITIONS IMPOSED BY CONGRESS AND WERE RE-ADMITTED TO THE UNION.

TOMORROW—THE IMPEACHMENT OF PRESIDENT JOHNSON.

Grove City School Boys To Play Game In Home Territory

Coach Hartman's Grove City high school eleven will play their first home game of the season on the college athletic field tomorrow. Grove City showed up mighty well in the first game with New Castle, holding the Lawrence county boys to a 19-0 score. More interest than usual seems to center in the high school boys and a record crowd is expected at the game against New Bethlehem.

Hartman will probably start the same line-up against New Bethlehem that he used against New Castle: L. E., Klink; L. T., Beatty; L. G., Brown; C., Smith; R. G., Capt. Coyer; L. T., Dwight; L. E., Briggs; Q., Catlin; L. H., Cameron; R. H., Sandrock, and F. B., Dunn. Carnahan will probably get a chance at half time.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Once again the stock market ignored the effect of the continued rise in speculative borrowing and the large scale speculative selling of the bearish professionals in the early trading today. Most of the active stocks which featured Thursday's closing reaction rallied to a slightly higher range of prices, short covering being an important factor in the rise.

United States Steel and General Motors led a moderate rally, in the course of which numerous gains of a point or more were scored by a number of the active stocks. DuPont recovered about 3 points and Baldwin 3 in narrow trading. The public utility shares recovered promptly, and the selling movement in the oils dried up for the time being.

Prepare For Big Crowd At Geneva Game Saturday

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Sept. 23—Geneva college inaugurating its 1927 football campaign, will celebrate its annual home-coming day on Saturday September 24 when the Golden Tornado clashes with Davis-Elkin's "Scarlet Hurricane."

Many old grads are expecting to attend the game and a large section of select seats has been reserved for them. A special program has been arranged in honor of the Alumni and is one of the features of the day's proceedings.

Besides this feature the 323rd Field Artillery intends to hold its annual reunion at Reeves stadium and preceding the game, services will be held in honor of its lost comrades in France. A large gathering of soldiers will be on hand accompanied by a fine band to add a lot of color to a gala day.

Pirates Split Doubleheader

Pittsburgh Cops First Game, 5-2, But Loses Second By 7-1 Score

CARDINALS MOVE TO SECOND PLACE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—Donie Bush's Pittsburgh Pirates split even in their twin bill with the New York Giants at Forbes field here Thursday, the Buccaneers winning the first game 5-2 and dropping the second encounter 7-1.

St. Louis, by beating Boston 6-5 in a last inning rally moved into second place. The pirates are three games ahead of the Cardinals in the pennant chase and remain 3½ games in front of the Giants, who are now in third place. But nine games remain to be played by the Pittsburgh club and indications are they will ride to the championship.

Kremer Wins.

Ray Kremer was credited with the first win for the Pirates, holding the Giants to nine safe blows. Aldridge started the game for Pittsburgh in the second engagement but gave way to Dawson and Peery.

Hornsby gave a demonstration of his home run clouting by socking the horsehide into the right field stands in each game. There was a runner on the paths each time. Harris saved the Pirates from a whitewash by clouting for a circuit in the second game. Forty thousand people saw the two games played yesterday. The lineups:

Loop Plan Given To City Official

Coulthard Exlains He Presented Plan Three Weeks Ago

The city has had a plan of the P-O's proposed improvement at Public square for three weeks but apparently no one knew it until Christ Coulthard, superintendent of the company told Councilman Burns. As a result the proposition may receive some action soon.

Today when the street car company official appeared before city council, Mr. Burns, acting as mayor in the absence of Mayor Dunlap turned to Coulthard and asked:

"How about those Diamond (Square) plans?"

"I never got them" said Solicitor White who was supposed to handle the legal aspect.

Coulthard said he had given them to the city engineer three weeks ago.

"The company desires to improve traffic by looping the lower part of the square which will necessitate removal of eight feet at the extreme west end which runs to a point so radius can be had.

(International News Service)

LEONARDTOWN, Md., Sept. 23—Four federal dry agents were under first degree murder indictments today for the killing of Charles Gundlach, 77-year-old farmer, during a raid here last week.

They were to be arraigned today. The indictment of all four agents by the grand jury was a surprise. It had been anticipated that the jury would indict only Randolph Brewer for murder.

Gundlach's widow testified that Brewer fired a pistol through her husband's brain as he lay wounded on the porch of their home.

The other three agents indicted were D. M. Jackson of Washington, R. S. Cornett of Leonardtown and John T. Fisher.

Occupants Of Big Building Know It's Cooler

Sudden Cold Spell Finds Heating System Not Ready For Use

September mornings have gotten chilly; frost is reported in the country side; and the army of stenographers employed in the various offices in the Lawrence Savings and Trust building wear their coats and are inclined to shiver.

There is no heat in the building. The reason is this: at the rear of the building workmen are erecting a big addition to the building, the ground floor of which will be used as banking space, and the upper stories as office rooms.

But, since the old chimney had to be torn down, the boilers which heat the building had to be removed, and the new stack and boilers will be in the addition.

Various plans for heat until the boilers are ready are being suggested in the many offices. One of the most plausible, however, has to do with gas heating. But other plans, part wild, and part not so wild, are in the wind. One girl says that if its does not get warmer, she is going to bring down her electric toaster.

Buckeye Girls Enjoy Banquet

GIRLS TO RETURN TO FIELD IN 1928

Members of the Buckeye Garment Manufacturing Company girls' baseball team, winners of the 1927 city diamond title, were honor guests at a banquet held last night at the Elks Club by Mike Fisher, head of the organization here.

Team members, coaches and supervisors and a few especially invited guests gathered about the festive board to bring to a fitting close a most successful diamond campaign. A delicious dinner was served the party, following which Lake S. McNab took charge of the evening program.

McNab carried out his role as toastmaster like a veteran and very cleverly introduced the speakers of the evening. Experiences on the baseball field, review of the season's games, the many splendid friendships developed, and tribute to the members of the championship team were the keynotes of the impromptu talks of the merrymakers.

The Buckeye girls in their first year of organization did wonderfully well to capture a city title and were unanimous to express themselves last night as wishing to open their season early next year to continue their success on the diamond.

Those present at the enjoyable affair were: the Misses M. DeLillo, captain; E. DeLillo, E. Pearl, A. Neiper, A. Ponian, E. Hill, R. Patton, J. Carbon, M. Calfato, M. Bailey, M. Hamilton and Messrs. Lake S. McNab, Gus Slovonsky, coach; Mike Fisher, Dan Fisher, A. Sekely and Johnny Urban.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

There's a little bit of sporting instinct in all of us after all. No matter how we may criticize the brutality of boxing, the economic waste of spending millions of dollars on a single fight, or the deteriorating effects of such events upon the youthful mind, still back in the innermost recesses of most of our minds there's a spark of sporting instinct, no matter how small.

It's a safe guess that 98 per cent of all the radios in New Castle last night were tuned in on the big fight in Chicago. At most dinner tables the talk probably veered towards Dempsey's chances of copping the title, and last night at fight time North Mercer street was jammed and crammed with men young and old who wanted to get the blow by blow account of the battle as broadcast by the News.

Brutal? Perhaps. But back in the Stone Age our forefathers battled for their very existence and while the refining effects of centuries of civilization have taken us far afield from our Stone Age ancestors' methods, still there's just a wee streak of it in all of us.

How did you like the outcome of it?

Did some roaming yesterday afternoon on the road between Mercer and Greenville. Apparently some modern Juggernaut had been there before me for within 200 feet of each other there were three casualties marking his path.

One perfectly good house tabby was lying in the middle of the road with all of her nine lives gone. Further on a Plymouth Rock hen with her toes up in the air, and still further on another hen who had passed to the Valhalla of Plymouth Rocks.

Either the motorist's aim was very good or very poor. Surely a driver could miss one out of three if he desired, or perhaps he was keeping a notch score on his driving post, much as the old time desperado notched the handle of his gun after each killing

Dropped into the Center of Erudition, i. e., New Wilmington on the way back. No matter how deep the snow will be this winter there will be plenty of green in the college town.

The Freshmen are wearing new shaped and new colored "Dinks." For you of the Great Unscrubbed who know not the meaning of "dinks," know then that it is a cap of the most verdant green forced upon the Frosh of any college by the beardless Sophomores.

And customers, take my word for it the dinks this year are certainly green. You can't imagine anything any greener. Quite apropos of course, for there is nothing any greener than a Freshman, but even a Freshman couldn't be quite as green as those dinks.

And in shape they resemble the French poilu's cap. Very trick. Some of the boys have them hung rakishly over one ear, giving them the appearance of a Bohemian in the Greenwich Village of "lil Old New York."

Met Prof R. X. Graham, head of the Journalism Department, and he insisted upon an inspection of the City Room of the department. Five embryo Brisbanes pounding out copy gave it a business-like appearance.

The stonework on Old Main is going up rapidly and the steel windows are being put in. When the new Old Main is completed, it's going to take a business-like fire to put the plant out of business.

Out on the athletic field the football squad was going through some strenuous work getting in shape for the game with Carnegie Tech on Saturday, with Dyke Beede cracking the whip.

There are two personages in the world who have absolute authority, the King of Siam and the football coach of any college.

NEW CASTLE DRY GOODS CO.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

Cooler days with sharper appetites call for the well known and justly celebrated pork chop to occasionally grace the dinner table. Combined with the sweet potato—which is also more of a cool weather than a summer dish—they make an interesting "main dish".

Pork Chops with Sweet Potatoes
Cabbage and Beet Salad
Brown Bread Applesauce

TODAY'S RECIPES

Pork Chops with Sweet Potatoes—Pare sweet potatoes and place them in the bottom of a roasting pan. Wipe the pork chops and place them on top of the potatoes. Place the roasting pan on the top shelf of a hot oven in order to brown the chops. Brown on one side; turn the chops with a fork and brown on the other side. Then remove the roasting pan from the oven, sprinkle the chops with salt, pepper and powdered sage, add a little boiling water. Return to the oven, cover and bake one hour or until potatoes are done.

Plain Brown Bread—Seven-eighths cup flour, two cups graham flour, two-thirds cup brown sugar, two-thirds teaspoon salt, one and two-thirds teaspoons baking soda, one and a half teaspoon cream of tartar, two cups sour milk. Mix all dry ingredients thoroughly. Turn sour milk into mixing bowl. Add dry ingredients, mix well. Turn at once into an oiled bread pan and bake from 50 to 60 minutes.

Lemon Rice—Boil one-half cup rice in one quart milk until very soft. Add to it while hot the yolks of three eggs, one cup sugar, the grated rind of one lemon and a pinch of salt. If too thick add some cold milk. It should be thicker than boiled custard. Turn into a pudding dish. Beat the white of the eggs very stiff with four tablespoons powdered sugar and the juice of the lemon, pour over the top and brown. To be eaten cold.

SUGGESTIONS

Tempers Heat.

For the women who bake their own bread—when the oven is too hot and the loaves brown on the top before the bread is baked, placed a pan of boiling water on the top grate. The steam keeps the bread from scorching, while necessary heat is conserved for finishing the baking of the loaves.

The Ice Card.

A substantial and neat ice card holder can be made very quickly. Take two cast-off girdle stays, fasten the center of each to two consecutive spindles of the porch railing with netting staples, then fasten the bottom of each one, leaving the upper half loose. Slip ice card under these and it is sure to stay

Uses Hose.

A housewife writes that she turns the hose on the vegetables such as potatoes, beets, turnips, etc., in the yard when she brings them home. It takes little time, she states, and saves bringing the dirt into the house.
